Hope Abandoned for 69 In Mine Trap

FARMER KILLED AS HE STALLS CAR ON TRACKS

Crawford Man Steps in Front of Train at Bucyrus After Stepping Out of Auto.

BLINDED BY LIGHTS

Ideal Weather Jams Highways But County Comes Through Without Accident.

A Crawford county farmer, instantly killed when struck by a fast passenger train as he stepped from his automobile which had stalled on a crossing in downtown Bucyrus Saturday night was one of the nine persons who lost their lives in week-end traffic accidents in the state.

For the first time in months not a single automobile mishap was reported in Richland county over the week-end although highways were jammed as motorists enjoyed the first spring-like weather.

Elmer R. Pfleiderer, 57, of Lemert, northwest of Bucyrus, was killed when he stepped from his car which he had driven onto the railroad tracks and was struck by one of the Pennsylvania railroad's crack flyers, the Broadway Limited. The train, east bound, did not stop.

Believed on Street.

Witnesses said Pfleiderer drove onto the double tracks apparently believing he was on a street which parallels the tracks.

Blinded by the lights of the approaching train, he assumed his machine was in the path of the limited and stepped from his car into the path of the flyer. His auto which was on the adjoining tracks was not touched.

Born in Liberty township in 1883, Pfleiderer is survived by his wife, Manetta; two sons, Lester of Jefferson township; and Howard of Tiro; three daughters, Mrs Clara Shutt and Mrs. Grace Milligan, both of Cleveland, and Ethel of Bucyrus; three brothers, George, John and Henry, all of Liberty township; a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Caris, Bucyrus, and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Munz Funeral home, Bucyrus, with Rev. K. E. Morhoff, of St. Paul Lutheran church, east of Bucyrus, officiating. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

In another accident Saturday, four Ohio State university stu-

ELECTIONS SET

125,000 Employes of General Motors to Vote April 17.

DETROIT —(AP)— The national labor relations board today set April 17 for elections at which an estimated 125,000 employes of 59 General Motors corporation plants throughout the country will vote on bargaining representation.

The election will be the largest in NLRB history.

In most plants the contest for designation as bargaining agent is between the CIO and AFL unions known as the United Automobile Workers of America. Workers also may indicate a desire for neither union.

The election will be by individual plants.

The NLRB regional office here said General Motors had agreed to set up booths in the plants, employes casting their votes during working hours. The vote will be counted on the following day.

Governor Arrested

Gov. E. D. Rivers of Georgia shown above, was arrested on a federal contempt citation while seated on the stage of the Macon, Ga., auditorium, attending a meeting of the Georgia Education association. He was released on his recognizance. Rivers recently refused to reinstate W. L. Miller, whom he had ousted from the state highway chairmanship, despite Federal Judge Bascom Deaver's order Miller be returned to office.

ADMITS FIRING AT 'OTHER MAN'

Husband Wins Probation; Court Scores Taxi Driver as 'Home Wrecker.'

John J. Sesler, 26, of 343 Springmill street, who admitted firing two shots at the "other man" in a "triangle" case two weeks ago, won probation today in common pleas court.

Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston who placed Sesler on probation for three years, then scored Adam Karbula, at whom Sesler fired the shots, as a "home wrecker."

"The law in this case doesn't provide for sentencing the man who wrecked this home, but I wish it did," Judge Huston asserted.

Karbula, a taxi driver, admitted on the witness stand at the hearing this morning that he had had "seven or eight dates with Mrs. Sesler." He is married and has a seven-month-old child.

Sesler, employed as a cigar store clerk, was indicted last Thursday by the grand jury on a charge of shooting with intent to wound. He pleaded guilty when arraigned Saturday.

He admitted shooting at Karbula in front of the Ringside night club March 4 after Mrs. Sesler had called Karbula there to "talk things over."

Sesler said he "didn't mean to injure or kill Karbula," asserting he fired twice after Karbula "sneered" at him when he approached the taxi in which Karbula was seated. One of the bul-

SPEED HANDLING OF MINE CLAIMS

State To Pay $5,250 In Each Death In Ohio Blast.

COLUMBUS — (AP) — A staff of industrial commission field workers was sent to the scene of the explosion-ripped Willow Grove coal mine at St. Clairsville today to expedite handling of claims.

Chairman Will T. Blake of the commission said that disability and death claims of men caught in the blast would be given preferred position on the hearing list.

Using as a yardstick awards paid after the 1930 disaster at Millfield in which 79 miners died, Blake estimated that the state would pay an approximate average of $5,250 for each man who perished in the Willow Grove blast.

SENT TO PRISON

Former WPA Administrator Gets 2 Years for Tax Evasion.

KANSAS CITY—(INS—Matthew S. Murray, former Missouri WPA administrator, today was sentenced to serve two years in the federal penitentiary for evasion of income tax.

Judge Albert L. Reeves, who heard the evidence and found Murray guilty last week after the defendant waived trial by jury, sentenced him to two years on each of the five counts of the indictment, but stipulated that the terms were to run concurrently.

FIRST BODIES BROUGHT OUT OF WRECKAGE

Rescuers Believe They Will Reach Entombed Ohio Miners Late This Afternoon.

'NO HOPE WHATSOEVER'

Owens, UMW President, Enters Tunnel, Declares None Will Be Found Alive.

(By Associated Press)

ST. CLAIRSVILLE— Hope was abandoned today for 69 miners trapped since Saturday in the Willow Grove coal mine.

Nevertheless, rescue crews continued their feverish efforts to penetrate falls of slate blocking the chambers in which the men were caught by a mighty explosion, attributed by mine workers either to gas or coal dust.

The bodies of John Marks, motorman, and Ross McFadden were removed from the mine today at 5:25 a. m. They were the first of the entombed men to be recovered.

Coroner C. C. Hardesty immediately began an inquest.

More than 100 miners reached the surface safely through an air shaft shortly after the blast. Two men lost their lives breathing poisonous afterdamp fumes in a futile attempt to reach the others.

Believes All Dead.

John Owens, president of the Ohio District of the United Mine Workers, surveyed the wrecked tunnels last night and declared he held "no hope whatsoever" that any of the entombed miners were alive.

"However, nothing is being left undone to recover the men as soon as possible," he said, adding that they probably would not be reached before this afternoon.

Experts from the Ohio and West Virginia mining departments and the United States Bureau of Mines assisted officials of the Hanna Coal company of Cleveland, owners of the mine, in directing rescue efforts.

ARREST 'RACERS'

Police Arrest 2 Students on Reckless Driving Count.

Arrested last night after racing through Mansfield's west side, at a speed of from 50 to 60 miles an hour, school pupils were charged by police today with reckless driving.

They are Richard R. Burkholder, 16, of 127 Rowland avenue, and Adeline M. Wilging, 17, of 616 Marion avenue. Both will be arraigned before Judge C. J. Anderson in juvenile court Saturday.

Lieut. Paul Whipp and Patrolman William Colby said they arrested the youths about 9 p. m. yesterday. The officers said the students drove their cars from Bennett street onto Maple street at a high rate of speed, neither driver observing a stop sign at the intersection.

The youths, who admitted to the officers that they were "racing" were released on their own recognizance.

2 Mansfield Students Carry Off District Essay Honors

Senior High school students carried off two of the eight first honors awarded today in the Americanization essay contest which is sponsored annually by the American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary. The honors were won in the Fifth district contest made up of 12 counties.

The two district winners from Mansfield are Hobart Adams and Julia Fishback, both students in the junior class. Adams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde D. Adams, 280 Marion avenue, and Miss Fishback is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fishback, 371 North Townview circle.

The contest, which was held in city and county schools throughout the United States, is carried on to national proportions with free trips to Washington for the winners. An annual affair, it is a part of the Legion's Americanism program.

The contest was open to students in the four grades of high school, with two classifications in each grade—one for boys and one for girls. Every student in the state had the same subject, "The Bill of Rights, My Protection."

In the county competition, three prizes were awarded in the boys' and girls' contests in the four high school grades. The cash prizes were $5, $3 and $1. There were 24 winners in the city and county schools, exclusive of Shelby, which conducts its own contest.

The winners in the boys' contest and their schools were:

SPRING? NO IT'S JUST A SAMPLE

Weatherman Predicts Several More Snows Yet, Colder Tonight, Tuesday.

Mansfield folks and others in Ohio may be excited about the balmy weather, but the weatherman, calm and collected as usual, dampened their enthusiasm today by predicting "several more snows during the rest of March and April."

The premature spring weather is "just a foretaste, a sample of spring," John C. Fisher, U. S. meteorologist at Columbus explained.

Then he predicted that the rain which started falling about noon today will change to snow tonight and Tuesday as the weather turns colder.

The warm weather, Fisher pointed out, is due to a storm center over the southern Great Lakes which caused southerly winds to blow in over Ohio. As the storm moves eastward, bring rain and snow, the temperature will drop, he said.

Mansfielders shed their coats and went out into the open yesterday as the temperature went up to 59 degrees, highest of the year. Easter bonnets appeared ahead of schedule and highways were crowded with joyriders.

All of Ohio except the lake cities had spring-like temperatures Sunday. It was 74 above at Cincinnati, 67 at Columbus, but only 45 at Cleveland.

The mercury dropped to freezing this morning in Mansfield, but by noon it had gone all the way up to 52 degrees again.

SCALD BABY

Youngsters Try to 'Help Mama,' Seriously Burn Infant.

NEW YORK— (AP) —Three-year-old Martin Neville and his little sister tried to "help mama" while she was at Palm Sunday services, and as a result their three-months-old sister is in the hospital with serious burns and a possible fractured skull.

Martin and his sister, Evelyn, 18 months old, decided to give the baby a bath. As their father, a night engineer, slept a few feet away, they lifted the baby out of her crib, dragged her across the floor by her nightgown to the bathroom and tried to put her into the tub, but dropped her, and her head hit the floor.

Undaunted, they got a toy sand bucket and poured scalding water on her. The baby's cried finally awakened the father.

BULLETIN

George Beck, 25, accused Mansfield child molester, pleaded guilty to an indictment charging kidnaping in common pleas court shortly after 2 p. m. today and was sentenced to serve five to 30 years in the Ohio State Reformatory by Judge C. H. Huston. The kidnaping indictment was one of 17 brought against him last week by the grand jury after a series of molestings over a period of nearly a year.

Judge Huston last week ordered a sanity test for Beck. Three physicians examined him and reported that he was sane. Beck's arrest three weeks ago climaxed a long police investigation of the molesting cases.

Roosevelt Gets Estimates of Unemployment in Nation From Four Sources.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — President Roosevelt's economic advisers, it was learned today have sent him a memorandum indicating that the nation started 1940 with from 9,000,000 to 12,000,000 unemployed.

The memorandum is a compilation of differing estimates from prominent labor statistics sources. It draws no original conclusions.

The president was told that the best unemployment figures available until the census takers check up in April are as follows:

National industrial conference board, 9,300,000; American Federation of labor, 10,200,000; congress of industrial organization, 12,000,000; a federal economist, 10,500,000.

The economist, one whose figures are used regularly by a half dozen federal agencies, said that the higher figures for January were due partly to the business decline in that month but largely to seasonal factors which always increase unemployment in that month.

This statistician figures that an average of 2,000,000 were unemployed in 1929, with the figure rocketing to 14,000,000 in March 1933, declining to 6,250,000 in September, 1937, rising again to 10,300,000 in February, 1938, and touching temporary bottom again at 8,800,000 last October.

If the usual seasonal factors operate this year—a circumstance of which he is not sure because of the recent business decline—this economist calculates that unemployment should be down to about 9,000,000 in April.

COSTS HIGHER

Ohio Education 'Price' Rises $21 Per Pupil in 4 Years.

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Education costs in Ohio public schools have increased $21.89 a pupil in cities and $15.67 a pupil in exempted villages in four years, a survey showed today.

Dr. T. C Holy of Ohio State university's bureau of educational research reported an average of $101.17 a pupil expended by cities during the 1938-39 school year compared with the 1934-35 average of $79.28.

Dictators Talk For 2 Hours on 'New Europe'

'Come What May, We Stand Together,' Keynote Of Conference; Both Agree War Must Be Confined To West With Balkan Nations Intact.

BULLETIN

BERLIN—(INS)—Italy will enter Europe's war on the side of Nazi Germany whenever it is strategically advantageous for Premier Mussolini to abandon his present policy of non-belligerency, informed German quarters said today.

(By International News Service)

BERLIN—In a cordial and "hearty" conversation at the Brenner pass lasting for more than two hours and a half, Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler and Premier Mussolini agreed that the present war can end only with creation of a "new order" in Europe, informed Berlin sources said today.

With the keynote of "come what may, we stand together," duce and fuehrer reached the conclusion that any future peace must be comprehensive and all-embracing, and that unless developments dictate otherwise, the war should be localized on the western front, it was said.

The Balkans, informed quarters declared, must be kept free from the menace of conflict, and in this Hitler and Mussolini concurred.

The "new Europe" sketched by Nazi spokesmen as the ultimate goal of warring Germany and non-belligerent Italy is one in which the seas are free and trade routes stripped of armed garrisons such as Gibraltar, Suez and Malta.

In addition, Germany's "living space" in central Europe must be assured, and her war-lost colonies returned.

It was regarded possible that there would be a sharp and significant drop in the present volume of trade between Italy and France following reaffirmation of Rome-Berlin axis solidarity. Berlin circles also felt that Spain might now come closer to Italy and Germany. The recent visit of Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop to Pope Pius made a tremendous impression on Spain, it was said.

Nazi spokesmen said that President Roosevelt's speech on Saturday, "was hardly contributory to peace prospects." With regard to Under-secretary of State Sumner Welles' decision to remain longer in Rome than anticipated, it was thought likely that Mussolini asked him to defer his sailing to allow one further conversation after the Brenner meeting.

Hitler

At the same time, Nazi spokesmen lent little credence to reports that the meeting marked the first stage in a new "peace offensive," holding that any such move would be impracticable at the present time.

Both Mussolini and Hitler believe, it was pointed out, that an actual test of arms must precede any steps designed to end the war before it has fairly begun, and both Germany and Italy are fully in accord on all issues of moment.

A semi-official statement described the Brenner pass meeting in these words:

"The fuehrer and Il Duce met to discuss questions concerning both countries.

"The meeting results from the fact that Nazi Germany today is fighting a struggle, decisive in history, against the western powers while Italy, not as a neutral but as a non-belligerent nation, simultaneously sponsors the living rights of young nations."

Mussolini

The conversations are being carried on, according to Berlin, in the foreknowledge that Hitler and Mussolini are perfectly in accord regarding major problems, major policies and major intentions.

(The only interpretation given in Italy up to the same time to the meeting between the two leaders at the Brenner

BOMBINGS: Nazi Air Force In Lightning Raid, Hit Battleships

(By Associated Press)

BERLIN—Germany's sharpest aerial blow at Britain was a lightning stab at twilight, carried out on a meticulous plan.

Elated young fliers told last night how their sky armada had pierced Britain's Orkney island air defenses in fading daylight Saturday and how they peered through the dusk toward their targets on land and afloat.

They could not tell what warships they hit but said that at least three battleships and one cruiser were struck and damaged.

They said three of Britain's mightiest man-o'-war, the 42,100-ton battle cruiser Hood and the 32,000-ton battle cruisers Renown and Repulse, were believed to have been in the Royal navy's Scapa Flow anchorage when the German bombers roared in from the North sea.

The German high command said two other warships probably were damaged also.

One flier told of "the bright fire of burning hangars" in the Germans' first air bombardment of the war on British land ob-

PUZZLE: Finns Tackle Huge Task of Rehabilitating Nation

(By United Press)

HELSINKI—Finland tackled an enormous rehabilitation today as Juhu K. Paasikivi and K. Voionmaa, members of the mission which last week negotiated the end of the war with Russia, left by airplane for Moscow to ratify the peace terms.

Paasikivi and Voionmaa will exchange ratifications with the Russian government at the Kremlin and negotiate concerning Finnish private property in territory ceded to Russia.

At home, the Finns worked to complete evacuation of ceded territory, and to organize a new national defense and seek economic rehabilitation with which to cope with the aftermath of war.

Authorities faced the vital problem of avoiding epidemics arising from the presence of thousands of dead men and horses killed in battle in Finnish territory.

Real dangers from disease were expected to come during the spring thaw, which occurs usually in mid-April. The severity of the peace which allotted to Russia large areas in Karelia and northeast of Lake Ladoga also gave Russia the heaviest burden of meeting the danger of epidemics since most of the dead were killed on territory now Russian.

The task of caring for the living was tremendous.

Variation Of French Toast

By ALICE LYNN BARRY

Remember "fried bread" and how good it tasted? And do you recall its transition into French toast? Now comes a variation on this well-bread (!) theme. Use two eggs, two-thirds cup mashed, ripe bananas, one-half cup milk, one-fourth teaspoon salt, six slices bread, sugar and cinnamon. Beat eggs slightly. Add bananas, milk and salt. Mix well. Dip bread into mixture. Brown the bread slowly on both sides on lightly-greased griddle or in frying pan. Sprinkle lightly with sugar and cinnamon.

Lives there a housewife who has never had a little gob of oatmeal left in the double boiler after breakfast is over? Shameful it is to throw it away, so here is a real use for it. Scotch Bacon Bread is made with four teaspoons all-phosphate baking powder, teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon allspice, two tablespoons sugar, one and one-half cups graham flour, one egg, three tablespoons New Orleans molasses, two tablespoons shortening, one cup cooked oatmeal, about one-third cup milk and three to four strips bacon. Add baking powder, salt, allspice and sugar to flour. Mix well but do not sift. Beat egg; combine with molasses, shortening and oatmeal. Add to dry ingredients. Add enough milk to make a fairly stiff batter. Pour into oiled pan (eight by eight by two inches). Let stand at room temperature at least 15 minutes. Meanwhile, fry bacon quite crisp, drain on absorbent paper and crumble, sprinkling over batter. Bake at 350 degrees Fahrenheit for 40 minutes. Cut in squares and serve hot.

Apple Butter Idea.

A jar of apple butter has a galaxy of uses. Try it spread between crisp pastry sheets for a pie-type pastry you'll enjoy

Peanut butter blended with orange juice and a dash of salt makes a sandwich filling your young ones will like for their lunch box.

Dates stuffed with nutmeats are not only good as a confection, but may perch atop puddings and cakes.

Cream cheese blended with orange juice and sweetened to taste is a swell topping for dusky gingerbread.

Horseradish which comes all prepared adds a zing to tomato juice cocktails and is dandy in salad dressing

For a tasty egg dish, line the bottom and sides of an oven dish with potatoes which have been boiled and then finely mashed. Cover the potatoes with a layer of pared and sliced tomatoes, and on this break the required number of eggs, taking care to let each egg lie separately in its bed of tomato. Sprinkle on finely-grated Parmesan cheese and bake in moderate oven until eggs are set.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

"It's sort of small, isn't it?" Mary asked doubtfully.

"Yes, it is," I answered honestly, "but we can arrange the furniture so the entrances and the exits can become between chairs instead of through doors, and your only difficulty will be in the timing of your movements. The distances from place to place will be shorter, but that need make no difference. When you reach your 'appointed place, simply stand without movement until the moment for your speech."

"I get you," Mary said, and we arranged Katie's furniture until we had an improvised stage set which, I decided, would do very well for this last preparation to foil the plot which I was sure Mary's father-in-law had concocted against her.

"Shall I begin now?" Mary asked, and there was something vaguely listless in her voice which made me look at her sharply. She caught my glance and flushed deeply.

"What's the matter, darling?" I asked.

She swallowed hard—I guessed to choke back tears—and broke into rapid speech.

"Do you think there's any use in going on with this?" she asked passionately. "Have you seen that devilish, sophisticated amusement in my father-in-law's eyes whenever he looks at me lately? It's as if he were savoring some secret jest against me, and you and I know only too well what that jest is. It's broken me down, as I suppose he's meant it to. He can't dream anything about our plan, but I think he means me to think that he's secretly amused at my temerity in thinking I could be a Veritzen star. And he's beaten me!" She spread her shapely hands with a gesture of hopelessness. "I might as well give up now as tomorrow. I can be getting ready to take it on the chin with a smile."

"What makes you think you're going to take it on the chin with a smile?" I asked, purposely making my voice heavy with contempt. "Judging from the way you're letting me down today, you'll be weeping all over the library tomorrow if your father-in-law does what we fear he's going to do."

"Me weeping?" she snapped. "Letting Philip Veritzen think he's got me down? He will have, of course, but he'll never know it from me. And thanks a lot for your high opinion of me."

"I'm glad you realize just how 'high' my opinion of you is," I said shrewishly. "I can tell you now that I never was so disappointed in anybody in my life. I've spent unlimited time and pains on you, and you've come through with flying colors in all but the one most essential element, and that one I would have sworn you had in superabundance. I banked on your courage, but I should have realized that, as your uncle would say, you are 'just plain yellow'."

Should Son Pay Board At Home?

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

My second marriage is to a man who is divorced from his first wife. They had three children, two of whom live with their mother, and the oldest—a boy of 19—lives with us, and he works with his father. I had four children by my first husband, and supported them alone for over ten years.

This son of my husband makes four dollars a day. My oldest son is in a CCC camp and has his check sent to me. My youngest boy earns enough money out of school to clothe himself. I've been charging my step-son $7.00 a week board, which my husband objects to as he thinks he owes his children a living as long as he lives—in other words, that a parent never can repay a child for being here. I feel differently.

My husband contributes towards the maintenance of his two daughters, and my little girls of 14 and 12 live with us. I also work four days a week, using the money for expenses in the home.

Now, do you think I'm right in charging the boy a small amount for board, or is my husband right in feeling that he owes a living to his children? We have agreed to abide by your decision.

A DEPRESSED MOTHER.

For the boy's sake, it seems to me he should pay board. He's earning $4.00 a day, splendid wages for a youngster of 19. It has been the tragic experience of so many parents who relieve children of all responsibility that the children go through life thinking "the world owes me a living."

It seems to me that you carry your half of the burden very capably, and your stepson should begin to realize it's time he did his share toward maintaining the household.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

"The Authority on Authorities"

FINDING A SAFE MAJOR

One of the prime objectives of skillful bidding is to locate a safe major suit for trumps, if your side has one. Usually that means a suit in which your side holds a total of eight cards, or, conversely, one in which the opponents hold no more than five cards. When they have six, they will be divided with four or more in one hand oftener than they will be evenly split, so that you are then in danger from one opponent's trump length. But five trumps will generally find neither opponent holding more than three. So your bidding tries to unearth such a suit, if possible.

A—♠ 4 2 ♥ 4 3 2 ♦ A J 10 2 ♣ K Q J 3

B—♠ 4 3 2 ♥ 4 2 ♦ A J 10 2 ♣ K Q J 3

1. North	1 ♠	2 ♥	3 NT
South	2 ♦	3 ♣	?
2. North	1 ♠	2 ♥	3 ♥
South	2 ♦	3 ♣	?
3. North	1 ♥	2 ♠	3 NT
South	2 ♦	3 ♣	?
4. North	1 ♠	2 ♥	3 ♠
South	2 ♦	3 ♣	?
5. North	1 ♠	2 ♠	3 ♥
South	2 ♦	3 ♣	?
6. North	1 ♥	2 ♥	3 ♠
South	2 ♦	3 ♣	?

Your final bid, holding in the South hand A or B, under the various bidding sequences given, your opponents not bidding, is dependent on an eight-card trump major suit being located, as preferable to a No Trump contract.

Sequence No. 1 indicates only two four-card suits by your partner, hence no more than seven cards for your side in either major. So with either A or B you pass 3-No Trumps. No. 2 indicates two five-card suits by your partner. Hence you bid 4-Hearts with A and 4-Spades with B.

Sequence 3 reveals five hearts and four spades, so with A you bid 4-Hearts and with B you pass 3-No Trumps. In fact, with A, you may bid 4-Hearts as soon as you hear the 2-Spade bid indicating hearts are five cards long. No. 4 shows five spades and four hearts, so with A you bid 3-No Trumps and with B 4-Spades. No. 5 shows six spades and four hearts, so you bid 4-Spades with either A or B. No. 6 shows six hearts and four spades, so you bid 4-Hearts with either A or B.

HOROSCOPE

For Tuesday, March 19.

The lunar and mutual aspects ruling this day point to great activity and progress, with the forces and faculties under high stimuli. There may be tenacious obstacles and stubborn impediments to cope with, but splendid mentality, adaptability and the employment of fresh modes and tactics assure a definite step forward. Superiors, employers and groups will be found ready to cooperate, being impressed by brilliant ideas, novelty and ingenuity. Romance is not lacking in the personal life. In fact, be prepared for sudden developments.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of decided progress, with highly-keyed talents, initiative and daring in untried and novel fields of action attracting and hearty support of employers and superiors. There may be impediments or old static conditions to cope with, but ingenuity, skill, resourcefulness and fresh methods and procedures will reap enduring progress. The personal life is rich with romance or unexpected emotional adventures.

A child born on this day may have great versatility, intellectual strength and initiative, despite a restless, nervous and high-tensioned temperament.

Surgery Last Resort

By MME. QUI VIVE

Woman would pay any price to retain the appearance of youth, to keep her face free of wrinkles. She watches their appearance with a sinking heart. What if she is a grandmother? All the more reason for keeping young so the children will be proud of her good looks. If she flirts with the idea of getting a facelift, it is not evidence of light-headedness. She loves to recall the picture of that Young Creature who was herself. Cheeks satin smooth, no furrows. Oh! why must Time be such a meanie and act like that?

If she had taken preventive measures in her early forties, used nourishing creams, massaged her portrait every day to keep tissues firm and blood streams dancing, she might have warded off the irrigation ditches. There are several reasons why the human face goes slump and falls into creases—ill health, the worry habit, getting overweight and then reducing, loss of sleep, indulgence in emotional storms, faulty digestion. We can't escape them all, life being what it is, especially these lunatic days when nobody can guess what's likely to happen.

* * *

The facelifting operation can be done successfully without leaving a masklike appearance. If a woman feels that she will be happier with fewer wrinkles, let her consult her family physician, have him recommend a surgeon of good standing in the medical profession.

No facelift is guaranteed to be permanent. Sometimes the flesh remains smooth for a long time, but if tissues have been greatly depleted another operation may be necessary a few years later.

Making old faces new again was done many years ago in the Orient and in ancient Rome.

* * *

Pouches under the eyes can be deflated, double chins can be rolled into one, flabby throats can be made young again. Yes, my dear reader, the treatments are expensive. Furthermore a conscientious surgeon—and no woman can afford to consult one who isn't—will state whether an operation seems justified. Many times a mirror magnifies defects, a woman doesn't look as aged and wrinkled as she thinks she does.

It is the belief of this preacher of pulchritude that one should not resort to surgery except in extreme cases. After all, what are a few facial lines if there's ginger in the heels, laughter in the eyes and spirits are dancing?

HITLER, DUCE RENEW PLEDGES AT CONFERENCE

Dictators Talk for Two Hours on 'New Europe'; Agree War Must Be Confined.

pass was that their conference was "cordial.")

Until the time should come for filing in the date for a declaration of war, it was said, Italy would lose no opportunity to demonstrate to the western powers that she is Germany's ally economically, politically and ideologically.

Italy for instance abruptly ceased furnishing certain implements of war to France as she had done hitherto.

The present German-Italian coal agreement will be followed by other agreements for putting resources of each at the disposal of the other axis partner. (The coal agreement, to furnish the major part of Italy's coal needs by rail, followed upon the British blockade of German coal being shipped by water.)

In the event of Italy's entering the war, it was said Germany would supply her partner with all the things necessary for waging modern war.

Hitler and Mussolini further agreed, according to sources considered gilt-edged, that an Italian-Russian rapprochement must follow next.

This in turn involves careful delineation of spheres of influence in the Balkans.

Revision Forecast For British War Cabinet.

LONDON — (AP) — Germany's boldest aerial stroke of the war—a one hour and 25 minute raid by 12 Heinkel bombers on the Scapa Flow naval anchorage—was followed today by expressions of belief in political quarters that Prime Minister Chamberlain is planning a drastic cabinet change to institute a more dynamic war policy.

This, the 198th day of the war and the prime minister's 71st birthday, found Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini in a meeting at Brenner Pass which centered speculation on whether Germany was planning an intesified conflict or a "peace offensive."

The British press clamored for a greater initiative in the government's direction of the war and the sharp division of opinion on Chamberlain's conduct of it was heightened by scheduled debate in the House of Commons tomorrow.

Informed political observers expressed the conviction that Chamberlain is planning to make ministerial changes soon, probably after Easter parliamentary recess starting Thursday.

Some thought he might adopt the pattern set in the World war by David Lloyd George for a small war cabinet engaged solely in direction of higher war policy.

In such a plan it was considered likely that Chamberlain would retain in the streamlined cabinet these three—Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir John Simon and Lord Halifax, foreign secretary.

Lloyd George, the World war prime minister, also was mentioned in speculation on possible cabinet personnel.

The mass Nazi raid in Saturday's twilight brought the war's first civilian casualties and the announcement that an unidentified British battleship had been hit.

One cottager was killed and seven other civilians—including two women — were wounded. Seven naval men were listed as casualties also, but the admiralty did not specify whether they were killed or wounded.

The air ministry's report of a counter raid on German warships in Helgoland Bight during the daylight hours Saturday and the admission of naval authorities that the Orkney Islands' station, like all "our eastern and northern bases," is "always" vulnerable to attack, did not cushion newspaper criticism of the government conduct of the war.

The fact that only one German bomber was shot down prompted questions about the effectiveness of the Royal Air force.

The more than 100 high explosive and incendiary bombs Nazi raiders showered on the island off the north Scottish coast did only "minor damage" to the British Man O'War, but the admiralty announced that the next of kin of the seven naval casualties had been notified.

Report Farley Backing Garner Against Third Term

SENATE DEMS HEAR OF NEW POLITICAL PLAY

Draft-Roosevelt Strategists Getting Breaks; Wait First Major Test in 2 Weeks.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON— Reports that Postmaster General James A. Farley was cooperating informally but effectively with Vice President John N. Garner's anti-third term movement circulated today among senate Democrats.

These reports were somewhat offset, however, by negation of a considerably touted strategy whereby Farley has to have entered an anti-third term slate of delegates in the May 13 Ohio preferential primary.

That Farley would enter a slate in opposition to the state organization which is fronting for the third term in Ohio was published here and throughout the country. But the deadline for filing in Ohio passed over the week-end and Mr. Roosevelt is assured of 52 delegates there if he wants them. There was in fact, no confirmation from Farley that he intended to go into Ohio at all.

The political relationship between the postmaster general and President Roosevelt still has not come to the open break which many observers predicted. Developments continued to challenge Farley's belief that there will be no third term effort.

The political breaks of the past few days have been considerably in favor of the New Deal organizers of draft-Roosevelt strategy although it is not known here, even yet, whether Mr. Roosevelt intends to run again or merely wants to accumulate a big bloc of delegates so that he may try to name his successor

The first major preferential primary will take place two weeks from tomorrow in Wisconsin where both Democratic and Republican stakes are high. Without suggesting that there is a coalition or anything of the kind between Sen. Arthur H. Vanderberg, R., Mich., and Sen. Robert A. Taft, R., O., it is fairly obvious now that both hope the Wisconsin primary will begin to submerge District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey's 1940 hopes.

Taft is staying out of Wisconsin so Vandenberg has a clear field against Dewey. Dewey strategists evidently are aware of the situation because their man is going to the mid-west again for some pre-primary campaigning

No great significance is attached here to last week's New Hampshire primary endorsement of a third term.

Untermyer, Famous Attorney, To Be Buried On Friday

PALM SPRINGS, Cal.—(INS)—Back to New York state, where his great legal career was built, the body of Samuel Untermyer, humanitarian and champion of Jewish rights, was to be sent today.

It was announced that the funeral will be held at 11 a. m. next Friday at the family estate, Greystone-On-The-Hudson, with burial to follow in Woodlawn cemetery.

The famous attorney, who was 82 years old, died at his winter home in Palm Springs after a long illness.

A son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Untermyer, returned to New York yesterday by plane. The body will be accompanied east by a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Richter. Both couples had flown here to be at the bedside.

Untermyer was president of the Palestine Foundation fund, vice president of the American Jewish Congress and was a leader of the world Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi council to champion Jewish rights.

Up and Down THE STREET

The young daughters of William Purcell of Toledo, treasurer of the Mansfield baseball club, got the "thrill of a lifetime" last night when they were the guests of Jeaunnette MacDonald, famous actress and concert star, for dinner in Toledo. The girls' uncle, Frank McIntyre, a widely known New York stage character, arranged the dinner. Purcell, who was in the city today for a baseball meeting, said his daughters told him Miss MacDonald was "just swell." The singer is to appear in a concert in Toledo this week.

Bud Simon, son of ex-Mansfielder Carl Simon, is outstanding in scholastic work as well as athletics at Piedmont high school in Oakland, Cal. Bud, who attended Mansfield high until he moved to the west coast, received the highest mark ever made by a Piedmont student in an I-Q test, the proud father, who returned to Mansfield for a brief visit today, explained. The junior Simon, who will graduate in June, plans to enter either Stanford or the University of California next fall.

—Eagle Scouting is the theme of a large painting recently presented to Area Boy Scout headquarters by Roy Terry, reformatory guard and former scoutmaster. The painting measures 32 by 42 inches, and is the work of a reformatory inmate. It shows a large eagle in flight carrying an Eagle Scout badge in its beak. Small pictures of all Eagle scouts in the area will be mounted on the painting, and will be hung at the headquarters, Floyd Dent, area executive said.

The big crop of candidates in the coming primary campaign is a profitable one for Richland county. Election board officials said today that the candidates' filing fees amounted to more than $900 which was turned over to the county general fund. The fees ranged from $10 to $50 per candidate, depending upon the salary paid by the offices they are seeking. The special congressional primary last month when 10 candidates filed for congress in the 17th district produced $500 for the county.

OPEN CAMPAIGN

Relays Promotors Will Seek Funds for Track Event.

The campaign to raise funds by popular subscription for the 14th renewal of the Mansfield Relays to be held at Stadium field Saturday, April 27, was launched at a meeting of the Relay Citizens committee at the Elks club today.

Ned Brooks, general chairman of the committee, who presided, said that final instructions for the drive were given to the 25 volunteer workers who attended the meeting.

No goal has been set, Brooks stated, but an amount larger than collected last year will be needed to help defray the expenses for the April interscholastic track and field classic. The purchase of wrist watches for the individual winners will increase the cost of the promotion, Brooks said. It is planned to complete the drive for finances this week. The event has been financed each year by donations of Mansfield merchants and manufacturers.

ADJOURNMENT DRIVE SNAGGED

House Republican Leader in Demand for Congress Action on Two Major Measures.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON — Administration plans for a peaceful and early adjournment of congress were rudely shattered today as Rep. Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, leader of 167 house Republicans, demanded action on bitterly-controversial measures.

Martin declared that the Republicans are "willing to stay in Washington all summer to do what ought to be done" in the way of legislation. He outlined two immediate, major goals for the Republican minority in the house. They were:

1. Passage of the Logan-Walter bill curbing "autocratic" powers of more than 100 government bureaus and administrative agencies.

2. Passage of the Hatch clean politics bill, which is expected to be approved by the senate.

The administration goal, with a national election campaign approaching, admittedly has been to suppress controversy. Party harmony was strained during the reciprocal trade treaty resolution in the house, and rudely shattered by the Hatch bill fight in the senate.

The Republicans, Martin indicated, will fight for consideration of other important measures also.

LAWMAKERS HEAR PLEA TO TEST 'MOST DEADLY' EXPLOSIVE TODAY

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—Four congressional committees in charge of land, sea and air defense legislation meet in extraordinary joint session today to hear an inventor's appeal for funds to test his "most deadly" explosive by blowing up animals with it.

Most senators who have heard Inventor Lester P. Barlow's description of his new explosive appeared to favor a test on animals despite vigorous protests by animal humane societies.

Sen. Gerald P. Nye, R., N. D., who is sponsoring Barlow, a bomb designer for the Glenn Martin aircraft plant in Baltimore, Md., was of the opinion that the means justified the end to determine whether the explosive is, as Barlow claims, "so horrible, it makes war impossible."

High army and naval officials, whom the inventor has failed to impress with his invention, have been invited to give their opinions today to what is believed to be the first joint session of the senate and house military and naval affairs committees since the World war. Barlow so impressed the senate military affairs committee last week that the minutes of the meeting were burned lest a foreign power obtain the formula of the explosive—a combination of liquid oxygen and carbon.

Barlow has been feuding with war department officials ever since he won a court award for more than $600,000 for alleged patent infringements on his inventions during the World war. He seeks from congress approval of the so-called Barlow bill which would appropriate $25,000 for a test of the explosive. Barlow has explained that he would stake goats at regular intervals on some lonely, Texas prairie and drop a bomb from an airplane among them.

He claims that the animals wouldn't "feel" it, because death comes instantaneously."

RECEIVE PAPERS

43 New Citizens to Be Honored at Reception Tonight.

Forty-three new citizens of Mansfield and Richland county who qualified for naturalization about two weeks ago will receive their citizenship papers at a party in their honor at 8 p. m. today at the American Legion home.

Sponsored by the Earle McVey post of the American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary, the program will include a talk by Rev. Grover E. Swoyer, pastor of the First Lutheran church; a motion picture, "The Formation of the Constitution," and music by the Legion quartet and members of the Westinghouse glee club.

The naturalization papers will be awarded by County Clerk of Courts Fred R. Zeliner and his deputy, Norman P. Henry who is in charge of naturalization applications. Each new citizen will receive a small flag and a book on "Citizenship" from the Legion Auxiliary.

A lunch will be served following the program in the auditorium at the home.

POLICE CLAIM 'TRIGGER MEN' GOT $10 TO $20

N. Y. Prosecutor Says Suspect Now In Jail Boasted of Killing 7 Witnesses.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—A murder-to-order combine which killed by contract for "big shot" racketeers was said today by a Brooklyn prosecutor to have been responsible for at least a dozen—possibly 20—gangland slayings.

Brooklyn District Attorney William F. O'Dwyer said 10 men were under arrest in connection with the crimes. He said the gang was implicated in seven murders and two attempted slayings in Brooklyn, and three killings in Sullivan county in up-state New York.

Youthful gunmen, described as "young punks," did the trigger work under agreements with such racket overlords as Lucky Luciano, imprisoned Manhattan vice king, Louis (Lepke) Buchalter, and Jacob (Gurrah) Shapiro, O'Dwyer said.

The prosecutor quoted one informer as saying the gang leaders had boasted to him of having "rubbed out" seven witnesses in District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey's Buchalter trial, and had planned to kill the remaining four witnesses in the case.

In one case, the district attorney said, the "rubout ring" shot to death Irvin Penn, 42-year-old music firm executive, whom they mistook for a Dewey witness in the Lepke case.

Two young members of the syndicate, fearful they would be deserted by their leaders and left to face alone charges under which they now are held, spilled their stories, O'Dwyer said. He named them as Anthony (Duke) Maffetore and Abraham (Pretty) Levine.

Sums of $10 and $20—sometimes as little as $3—were paid for the killings. O'Dwyer said the combine "had a finger in almost any racket you can name. . . . prostitution, extortion, intimidation of business, murder, gambling and what have you."

The Brooklyn killers apparently were allied in some way with the Detroit purple gang, the prosecutor said.

KILLER AT 16

Boy Accused of Murdering 14-Year-Old Brother.

TOMS RIVER, N. J.—(INS)—Charged with shooting his 14-year-old brother to death during a quarrel over a bicycle chain, Homer G. Fisher, 16-year-old Bayville youth, today was confined without bail in Ocean county prison.

A state trooper testified at a coroner's inquest that Homer admitted "intentionally" slaying his brother, Louis, with a 12 gauge shotgun in the garage of their home. The boy's father asserted he had "never demonstrated such a temper that would lead him to kill."

Police also testified young Fisher at first protested the discharge, which struck the victim in the back, was accidental.

The Voice of BROADWAY

—By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Speaking for Myself.

I still like swing, and I don't think it's dead, in New York or in Austin, Texas. I'll set Glenn Miller's band playing against any of the sweet or "Mickey Mouse" orchestras—Guy Lombardo or Kay Kyser or Wayne King—and I'll wager Miller will outdraw the sugar boys in any city or town in America. Bet? . . . When a woman becomes president of the United States, I'll become a citizen of Tahiti . . .

I'll never be able to figure out why Joe DiMaggio was included in the list of the ten best-dressed men in the United States, unless the little woman has suddenly taken him in hand or to a new tailor.

Last time I saw Joe he was wearing a blue suit with a chalk stripe as vivid as lightning, a shirt the hue of a Capri sky, a tie that could be called conservative only in Harlem on Easter morning, and a polo coat the exact color of Edam cheese.

I wonder what Park avenue doormen think about between limousines. . . . Funny, there hasn't been a real feminine wit on the Broadway scene since Dorothy Parker moved from Lindy's to the Brown Derby.

* * *

I hate ferry boats in the daytime, but I love to ride on them at night when they're lit like the windowed shoe-boxes children play with on summer evenings, and they ride quietly across the water like magic skiffs. . . . Here we have a "second World War"—and no Elsie Janis! . . . I don't think girls with crushes on movie stars should ever be allowed to meet them—except Leslie Howard, maybe. He has that same quality off-stage.

I once met Boris Karloff, found out that he is a nice polite man who likes pipes, flowers, tea, and dogs—and now I never get scared at Frankenstein movies . . . I love corned beef hash at 4 a. m. . . . Child wonders either frighten me or leave me cold.

I wonder what tempting inducement makes Maurice and Cordoba sign to dance at the Savoy in London in May. I'd hate to be a performer in a war-time city, and never know from one night to another whether I'd be able to bring down the house before a bomb did! . . .

I wish Beatrice Lillie would come back to Broadway. . . . I am always a little disappointed in columnists (especially lady columnists) who can give a bad review but can't take one.

Movie producers seem to spend so much time thinking up original beginnings for pictures (sometimes the title sheets are better than the plot), it's about time they concentrated a little on the fadeouts. I always wished Harpo Marx had gone through with his plan to appear in the last scene of a picture and say, "Well, anyway, I bet this is better than the other picture on this double feature!" . . . I think a British accept is attractive in a man, unattractive in a girl. With Southern accents it's just vice versa.

* * *

I can't hear a fire engine go by or a band playing in the street without dashing to the window. . . . I've never been seasick in my life, or airsick, but two blocks on a trolley car and I feel chartreuse around the edges. . . . Nobody can sing "Melancholy Baby" the way Morton Downey can; in fact, nobody can sing a lot of songs the way Morton Downey can. . . .

Signs of Spring: the handholders along the terraced wonderland of Riverside Drive, the blossoms in the Park ave. florist's windows, Gertrude Lawrence's new hat.

I wish some candid camera expert would snap the expressions on the upturned faces of the people who watch the headlines go by on the electric sign in Times Square. . . . I wonder if baseball players' wives like traveling with the teams. I'll bet most of them know how to knit.

* * *

I wonder how many girls a year give up show business and go home to small towns, or stay in the big city working as waitresses in beaneries and hat check girls in dance halls. . . . It makes me sad to see the Normandie and the Queen Elizabeth and the Queen Mary tied up at the docks, grey and dismal. They ought to be sailing on bright seas, taking gay crowds to far places.

Funny that most people with artistic careers are good at something besides the profession at which they make their money. The late George Gershwin was a skilled portrait painter; Joan Edwards, the singer, could probably be just as successful playing the piano; John Barrymore's cartoons are as witty as his ad libs; and Anita Louise, who is pretty in pictures, is also adept at the harp. . . .

* * *

Not long ago a judge got a lot of page one publicity when, in sentencing a murderer, he blamed "cocktail lizards" and the perils of "cocktail lounges" for a percentage of crime.

I have been pondering this for some time, but I cannot figure out what the judge means. A cocktail bar like the Stork Club's? Nothing could be more decorus at 5:30 p. m.

The "lizards" hanging about last time I was there included: (a) two Princeton seniors; (b) three debutantes; (c) two grandmothers; (d) the vice-president of an advertising company; (e) a radio announcer; (f) a sports columnist; (g) the wife of the Postmaster-General of the United States. So far as I know, no crime wave resulted.

My idea of the town's pleasantest and most entertaining host is Ben Lemisch, who has just become part owner of the 48th St. Tavern. . . . I am always puzzled about what to call people with only one name, like Annabella, Margo, and Tamara, when I don't know them very well.

Hollywood Speaks---

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—The Nazis are out again—but what a difference this time!

You can see them on the sound stage where "The Mortal Storm" is being filmed. You can see them in the studio streets at Metro, in the studio commissary lunching, quite often, with English Tommies from the set of "Waterloo Bridge."

They're there, these Nazis, with no folderol, no claptrap, no hocus-pocus such as marked their first film work last year in "Confessions of a Nazi Spy."

The "Confessions" were filmed in secrecy. There was hushed-up talk about threatening letters, about strange accidents and near-accidents on the set. There was abundant evidence either that Nazi sympathizers in this country didn't like the idea of a picture about themselves, or that secrecy in this instance was considered the better part of publicity.

From Metro's "Mortal Storm," so far, have come no rumors of Nazi anguish Outwardly, at least, this looks like any other picture as it goes on its day to day production schedule.

It's odd, of course, to see those swastika-banded arms on the extras' uniforms in this free country, but after a while the strangeness seems no greater than that of Zulu warriors or Civil war belles or the cavemen of D. W. Griffith's "1,000,000 B. C."

* * *

Frank Borzage is directing "The Mortal Storm" which is based on Phyllis Bottome's novel of a family in Nazi Germany at the beginning of Hitler's regime. Borzage is the man who two years ago filmed Erich Maria Remarque's "Three Comrades"—or those parts of it which the studio deemed it prudent to film. Then it was a question of "protecting" Metro's foreign market. Today—

"Well," says Borzage, "we're filming a human interest story of a family's disintegration. It just happens to have Nazi Germany as its background. Our picture won't have any 'heavies' and it's not an attack on Germany. It's just a picture of what happens when a force like that arises. There are no heavies because the storm troopers are shown believing in what they do."

"But the fans can draw their own conclusions, Mr. B.?"

"Well—yes. We don't condone the brutality, naturally. We try to show the fanatic fervor that motivates it, but we don't excuse it."

Expect New High Scores

All-Events Division May Be Hit Today.

DETROIT—(AP)—New high scores, especially in the all-events division, were expected today in the American Bowling Congress tournament.

• • •

Members of the Ambrosia Brews, Chicago, who scored 2922 last night to take the lead in the five-man event, were slated to shoot at the leading marks in the doubles, singles and all-events along with other top-flight pinsters.

The week-end bombardment completely changed the complexion of the standing board. Frank Gaglione and Sons, Buffalo, moved into second place in the main event with 2855 and Pabst, Chicago, took fourth with 2831.

Ted O'Bryan, Chicago bank clerk, rolled the highest single game posted thus far, in opening his singles competition. He finished with 661 for fifth place.

SMITH-WARD TEAM WINS BEST-BALL TOURNAMENT

ST AUGUSTINE—(AP)—Horton Smith's ability to sink long ones carried him and his amateur partner, National Champion Marvin "Bud" Ward of Spokane, Wash., to a 4 and 2 victory yesterday in the 36-hole finals of the $3,000 amateur-professional best ball tournament.

They defeated Henry Poe, Reading, Pa., professional and Harold Mandly, New England amateur champion from Westerfield, Conn.

Home Towns Heap Honor On Champions

Quakers and New Carlisle Quintets "Hero Worshipped" for Winning Ohio Cage Crowns.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Residents of New Philadelphia and New Carlisle today heaped "hero worship" upon members of their state championship high school basketball teams.

Parades, brass bands and the promise of future festivities were the order of the day as the champions returned triumphant from the annual cage tournament in Columbus.

The New Philadelphia Quakers kept their season record clean—25 straight wins—as they routed Canton McKinley's unbeaten Bulldogs in the class A finale, 30-22

• • •

New Carlisle's Tigers took the class B crown by beating Canfield, 43-26, in the final game to hang up a season record of 29 victories in 30 contests.

An automobile caravan 10 miles long met the New Philadelphia team at West Lafayette and escorted the class A kings 27 miles to their own gymnasium where a crowd of 1,500 saw Principal J. B. Rudey and Coach Paul Hoerneman honor team members individually and collectively.

The New Carlisle lads received no less impressive a welcome home and were escorted by a caravan of 70 automobiles on a tour of the county. R. M. Borst, principal, declared Monday would be a school day, but admitted he "didn't know how much school there would be."

Five of the 10 players on the New Philly squad are juniors and will be back next year.

• • •

Coach Hubert Cole of the New Carlisle club is not so fortunate, however, since eight of his 10 first stringers graduate in June.

• • •

The three-day state tournament set a new attendance record of 36,333. The old mark of 34,196 was set in 1938.

Indians Pace Rivals In 'Grapefruit' Loop

Cleveland Club Has Registered Four Wins; Cards and Reds In Cellar Berth.

(By Associated Press)

IF BASEBALL'S spring squirt, the Grapefruit league, has proved anything to date it is that the Cincinnati Reds and St. Louis Cardinals are about to have a great two-club race—for last place in the Grapefruit league.

Playing about the same brand of opponents (the New York Yankees and each other) the Cardinals have lost seven out of nine games, but the Reds have dropped six out of eight to make a stout fight.

• • •

The Cleveland Indians, on the other hand, have won four and lost none of their exhibition games and the Detroit Tigers have triumphed in six and dropped one.

It just goes to show that the spring struggles are all in fun, or at least futility. In the early innings of the grapefruit grind a year ago the Cardinals were setting a hot pace for all the major league clubs and the Indians weren't even threatened as cellar champions.

The Indians took the easy trail to the top last week by warming up against three International league teams and scalping the Washington Senators.

But the Cardinals have met nothing but major league opposition. Besides, Manager Ray Blades has been experimenting all over the place and getting along as best he could without his holdout stars, Joe Medwick and Don Padgett.

• • •

A lot of other managers have been experimenting too, but mostly with seasoned players such as Hank Greenberg's shift to the outfield for Detroit, Ted Williams trying leftfield for the Boston Red Sox, and others.

• • •

An exception to the scarcity of "spring sensations" might be Bert Haas of the Brooklyn Dodgers who stole home once against the Reds and hit two homers and a single in another game and Mike McCormick of the Reds, who broke up one game with two triples and a double.

Launch Stanley Series Tomorrow

NEW YORK —(UP)— The National Hockey league's annual ice carnival—the Stanley Cup "Follies"—opens tomorrow night on three rinks to climax a mediocre season.

Six of the seven teams that annually open the season will take part in playoffs that hockey circles hope will make up for a dull schedule. The New York Rangers, who finished second in final standings, showed a slight attendance increase but generally interest in National league hockey has cooled off.

The Boston Bruins, league champions for the second straight year, and last season's Stanley Cup winners, meet the Rangers in series A, a best four-out-of-seven games session. The first game will be played at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night, the next two at Boston, March 21 and 24, and the fourth at the Garden, March 26.

Trio of Senior Loop Reserves Help Turn Tide

Substitutes Blend to Tally Winning Run In 2 to 1 Triumph Over Americans.

By WHITNEY MARTIN

TAMPA—(AP)—The long-abused National leaguers today strutted the streets in broad daylight, and if pressed, very lightly, would say casually: "Oh yes, the American league. We had their stars over for a practice game yesterday. Beat them, 2 to 1, with our reserves."

Which, in essence, is true. The National league all-stars did win an exhibition game, with more than 13,000 spectators contributing approximately $20,000 to the Finnish relief fund. And three substitutes did blend their talents to score the winning run in the ninth inning.

• • •

But in reality, the game proved nothing, except that the pitchers are far ahead of the batters in spring training, and that a lineup of sluggers is just another lineup when the fast ones, and not the burlers, are snapping.

• • •

However, the victory was greeted gleefully by the senior circuit It was St Patrick's day to the rest of the country, but it was groundhog day to the National Leaguers, who popped out of the holes in which they had been hiding since the last World series.

The siege guns in the American lineup failed to get much more than a loud foul. They were held to five hits, Bill Dickey and Frank Crosetti getting two each and Jimmy Foxx one, and none was better than a single.

The National Leaguers collected six blows, all singles, putting two of them together in the ninth for the ball game.

The Americans took the lead in the second inning when DiMaggio walked, went to second on Dickey's single and went home on Crosetti's first hit.

• • •

The Nationals tied it up in the fourth when Ott walked, advanced when Harry Danning was hit by Buck Newsom, and scored on Demaree's single to right, heating a fine throw by Williams by inches.

Bob Feller started the eighth inning for the Americans. He had plenty of stuff, but was wild. A double play pulled him out of a hole in that inning, but in the ninth Al Lopez, Boston Bee catcher and the pride of Tampa, sent a slashing single to center, went to second when Hal Trosky, Cleveland first baseman, dropped Rollie Hemsley's throw on Terry Moore's sacrifice, and scored the winning run on Pete Coscarart's single through short.

Bill McKechnie, Red manager in charge of the National team, started Paul Derringer, and followed with Kirby Higbe, Luke Hamlin, Bucky Walters and Harry Gumbert, with Gumbert the winning pitcher. Joe McCarthy, American pilot who started seven of his Yankees, sent Red Ruffing to the mound, and followed him with Newsom, Dutch Leonard, and Feller.

Long-Awaited Showdown Tops Tonight's Quality Club Show

THE long-awaited showdown between two of the most dynamic figures in professional wrestling, the masked unknown who calls himself the Masked Marvel, and "Bull" Marino, rough and ready Italian from New York City's lower east side will come tonight in the Armory when the men meet in the upper half of a big double header wrestling card.

• • •

They will wrestle for two out of three falls with an hour time limit and the match will co-headline the card with the important junior-heavyweight tilt between Jimmy Heffner, the flashing star from Sherman, Texas and Fred Carone, rugged Italian from Chicago. This match also is two out of three falls with a one hour limit.

• • •

There is plenty of latent fire in the tilt between Marino and the Masked Marvel. Marino is the only man who has been able to match the roughhouse methods of the Marvel and the slugging New York Italian literally ran the Marvel clear out of the ring here a month ago.

Marino treated him so roughly that he left the ring and refused to return to finish the match, and as a result drew a month's suspension from the Midwest Wrestling Association, ruling body of the mat sport in the middle west.

• • •

The suspension was lifted a day early upon the Masked Marvel's agreement to meet Marino and the important match will feature tonight's big double bill in the Armory.

• • •

The other feature of this three event attraction is a one fall, 30 minute battle between Bob Steele, the husky Mansfield youth and Ralph Akers, Flint, Mich., light-heavyweight and is a renewal of an old feud between the two. The first event will get under way at 8:30 promptly.

FATHER Age 35 | MOTHER Age 34 | CHILD Age 5

SPORTS PARADE

By HENRY McLEMORE

TAMPA—(U.P.)—The Finnish flag may be at half mast in Helsinki, where the snow lies deep, but it flies bravely in Tampa today.

* * * * *

Against a background of palms, and with the sun lighting its blue cross on a field of white, it gallantly waves a salute to those who control baseball, those who play it, and those who love it.

* * * * *

For these three groups combined yesterday to make an outstanding success of the all-star game for the benefit of the Finnish relief fund; one didn't need to be a sentimentalist to get a bang out of that game and its setting, and I'm not speaking of the game itself, even though the greatest stars of baseball played it to the hilt, and gave a performance worthy of a world series.

No, the real thrill of it, the part of it that made the funny little feeling go up your back and raise the hackles on your neck, was to be a part of this grand gesture towards the decency and courage of a little nation 4,000 miles away. The paramount thing was the fineness of people—people who asked only to be given a chance to answer a call for help. Nearly 15,000 persons packed the park, and paid more than $20,000 for the privilege.

That's quite a turnout for a city of around 100,000 population. It is even more remarkable when you remember that the seats were priced as high as five dollars. And it wasn't a plush crowd like you see at the horse show in Madison Square Garden or the polo matches at Meadow Brook.

But that's what made it the game it was. People in Florida haven't the remotest connection with Finland.

But to their everlasting credit the people of Florida responded to the cry of Finland as whole-heartedly as if it were a country just across the bay.

* * * * *

The same goes for the players of the two major leagues. For nothing, absolutely nothing they played the game as if the championship of the world depended on the outcome. Feller threw the fastest ball he knew. Di Maggio took his meanest cut at the ball. Jurges went for everything in sight. There wasn't a moment in the game when every player didn't drive to the best of his ability.

* * * * *

To make it a perfect day, there came one of those almost unbelievable coincidences. Early in the morning there crept into the port of Tampa a snub-nosed little freighter—a snub-nosed little Finnish freighter. Somebody on the boat could read English and through the morning papers learned of the game. So, just before game time, the captain of the freighter, his mate, and two of the crew, walked up to the ticket window and bought five dollar tickets.

It was their first baseball game.

Oscar Grimes Back In Uniform

FORT MYERS — (U.P.) — Oscar Grimes, still convalescing from a knee operation, was back in a Cleveland uniform today.

* * *

The talented utility infielder took batting practice for the first time yesterday and later stood on first base and caught a few thrown balls.

* * *

His presence on the field helped offset pessimism over the continued hitting failure of Ray Mack, another potential Indian star.

Manager Oscar Vitt called his entire coaching staff into consultation to diagnose the symptoms of Mack's ailing power at the plate. The "doctors" finally decided that Mack's batting stance needed a few changes.

The Indians won their fourth straight exhibition contest yesterday, nosing out Rochester of the International league, 2 to 1.

* * *

The tribe entertains the Phillies today with John Broaca, Joe Dobson and Al Milnar slated to toil on the Cleveland mound.

* * *

The Indian lineup was studded with reserves yesterday to fill in for regulars playing in the all-star tilt at Tampa.

Training Camp Notes

(By Associated Press)

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. — Frankie Frisch plans to carry a full crew of Pittsburgh Pirates almost up to May 15, when major league squads must be cut to 25 players. His idea is to get a good look at the rookies under fire. After the cut the squad will number 10 pitchers, three catchers, six infielders and six outfielders.

* * *

FORT MYERS, Fla.—Manager Oscar Vitt of the Cleveland Indians isn't worried a bit by the fact Bob Feller didn't shine in the all-star game yesterday. Vitt had ordered Feller to take things easy and told Catcher Rollie Hemsley to see that the Iowa flash followed instructions. Both obeyed orders.

* * *

TAMPA, Fla.—Manager Bill McKechnie promises "plenty of work" for the Cincinnati Reds before their return to the Grapefruit league wears Tuesday. We think they looked "terrible" against the Red Sox Saturday. Another worry for the Reds concerns Ival Goodman's right shoulder, which he hurt in the all-star game last summer. The injury has affected his throwing and an operation may be necessary.

* * *

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Just when there was beginning to be some question whether Lefty Lee Grissom would be a fit companion for that other southpaw wonder of the New York Yankees, Lefty Gomez, the former made it clear he would qualify.

In yesterday's game with the St. Louis Cards Grissom took two strikes batting lefthanded, then crossed the plate and took a called third strike from a righthanded position.

* * *

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—The veteran Walter Berk should save many games for the Phillies this year. The ace fireman of the Phils last year showed himself in good shape yesterday in holding the Boston Bees to two hits and no runs in three innings.

* * *

ANAHEIM, Calif.—Benny McCoy is hitting only .267 for the Philadelphia Athletics, but Connie Mack is sure his $45,000 beauty will be meeting the ball solidly by the time the season opens. McCoy has been at bat 30 times in 14 games and collected eight hits, four singles and four doubles. He has driven in four runs and scored five himself.

Assistant Coach Takes Over Madigan's Post.

MORAGA, Calif.—(AP)—Norman P. "Red" Strader, assistant football coach at St. Mary's since 1932, succeeds the colorful Edward Patrick "Slip" Madigan as head coach.

A three-year contract was ready for Strader's signature today. Financial details were not disclosed. Madigan, coach for 19 years during which he built St. Mary's into national gridiron prominence, was removed by the board of athletic control just a week ago. Madigan blamed personal enmity arising within the board.

COACHES TO MEET

An important meeting of the Downtown Coaches association will be held at the Chamber of Commerce at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, Joe Blahnik, head coach, announced today.

Dizzy Dean Ready To Ink Contract

LOS ANGELES — (U.P.) — Dizzy Dean, problem holdout of the Chicago Cubs, was "ready and willing" today to take his regular turn on the mound for exactly $10,000, half of what he received last year.

Dean signed with Clarence Rowland, Cub scout, last night. Rowland said the contract contained no "special" clauses. Earlier in the day, Dean declared he would not consider signing for less than $15,000.

Record Entry Looms For Meet

TOLEDO—With the entry deadline fast approaching for the 37th annual tournament of the Ohio State Bowling Association, advance reservations indicate this year's event will far surpass all previous tournaments in number of entries.

Entries for this year's state meet, which is to be conducted in A and B classes at Hagerty's Interurban alleys, will close Saturday. Tournament firing opens April 12 and will continue for five consecutive week-ends.

GEORGIE PACE MAY FIGHT NEXT BOUT IN MEXICO

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Georgie Pace, recognized as world bantamweight champion by the National Boxing association, may hop down to Mexico for his next bout. Tom Stanley, manager of the Cleveland Negro, reported an offer of a title bout with Panchito Villa of Mexico.

Stanley said he would agree if Pace were assured $7,500. The bout, 15 rounds, would be held at Mexico City. Pace drew in a 15-round title fight with Lou Salica of New York at Toronto March 4.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pints of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 10¢ and 25¢. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

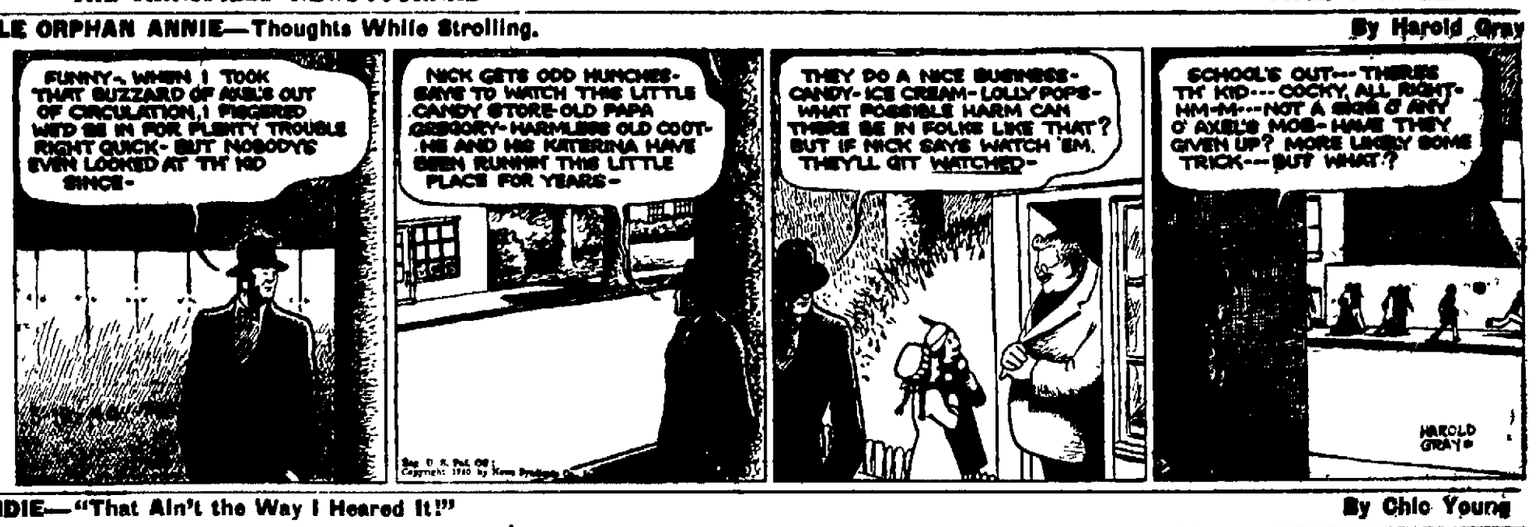
LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—Thoughts While Strolling. By Harold Gray



FUNNY-, WHEN I TOOK THAT BUZZARD OF AUBL'S OUT OF CIRCULATION, I FIGGERED WE'D BE IN FOR PLENTY TROUBLE RIGHT QUICK- BUT NOBODY'S EVEN LOOKED AT TH' KID SINCE-
NICK GETS ODD HUNCHES- SAYS TO WATCH THIS LITTLE CANDY STORE-OLD PAPA GREGORY- HARMLESS OLD COOT- HE AND HIS KATERINA HAVE BEEN RUNNIN' THIS LITTLE PLACE FOR YEARS-
THEY DO A NICE BUSINESS- CANDY- ICE CREAM- LOLLY POPS- WHAT POSSIBLE HARM CAN THERE BE IN FOLKS LIKE THAT? BUT IF NICK SAYS WATCH 'EM, THEY'LL GIT WATCHED-
SCHOOL'S OUT--- THERE'S TH' KID--- COCKY, ALL RIGHT- HM-M---NOT A SIGN O' ANY O' AXEL'S MOB- HAVE THEY GIVEN UP? MORE LIKELY SOME TRICK---BUT WHAT?

-- AND DON'T SHOW YOUR FACE IN HERE AGAIN!
GRACIOUS, COLONEL— WHAT'S WRONG
THAT SCOUNDREL HAD THE UNMITIGATED NERVE TO COME IN HERE AND OFFER ME A BRIBE!
A BRIBE?
-- A BRIBE TO LAY DOWN ON THAT MONROE CASE —NOT TAKE IT INTO COURT— ADVISE MY CLIENT TO DROP THE SUIT!— IF I'D BEEN A YOUNGER MAN I'D HAVE GIVEN HIM A SOUND THRASHING, IT MADE ME SO MAD!— OF COURSE HE CAME FROM THAT HARDESTY CROWD!
BUT— THERE'S ONE THING ABOUT IT THAT'S GOOD, PAMELA! —THEY MUST CERTAINLY BELIEVE I'VE BUILT UP A STRONG CASE!

BANGKOK! ONE OF THE BEAUTIFUL JEWELS SET IN MOTHER EARTH. I ALWAYS DREAMED OF A TRIP TO SIAM AND A VISIT WITH YOU GRACIOUS CHARMING FOLKS BUT NOW THAT I'M HERE I CAN ONLY TARRY A FEW MINUTES
I DONT BELIEVE THEY UNDERSTOOD A WORD YOU SAID— YOU WASTED IT ON THEM— WAIT UNTIL YOU GET BACK HOME AND RUN FOR SOME OFFICE— I THINK THAT KIND OF TALK WITH YOUR INNOCENT LOOK WOULD ELECT YOU
I DID RUN FOR SENATOR ONCE AND WAS ELECTED ON ELECTION DAY, BUT THEY DID A LOT OF VOTING AFTER THE POLLS CLOSED— THE POLITICIANS DIDN'T THINK THE PEOPLE KNEW WHO THEY WANTED
I DONT KNOW WHO THE OTHER GUY WAS, BUT THE POLITICIANS COULD NOT HAVE MADE MUCH OF A MISTAKE!

STOCK LEADERS STUMBLING IN TODAY'S MART

U. S. Steel and General Motors Lagging; European Markets Irregular.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK — Leading stocks continued to stumble in today's market.

Inclined to lag were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Western Union, American Can, Westinghouse, Union Carbide, U. S. Rubber, Douglas Aircraft, Boeing and United Aircraft.

Bonds were mixed, with foreign dollar loans recovering substantially. Commodites were lower. European securities markets were irregular. "Free" sterling rallied in terms of the dollar.

Market students scanned the survey of the magazine "Steel" which commented on the spottiness of metal consumption and the fact that, during the past six weeks, ingot production had declined more rapidly than finished steel shipments.

Helpful was the report of the bureau of agriculture economics indicating the business decline had slackened.

MEET AT PARK

County Sportsmen Select Committees Tuesday.

The Richland county conservation committee will complete organization plans at a meeting at 8 p. m. Tuesday at North Lake park pavilion.

Joe R. Heilman of Mansfield, chairman of the organization, will be in charge of the session and will supervise the appointment of members to positions on 16 committees.

The committee, organized last week in the state's new plan to decentralize the activities of the Ohio Division of Conservation and Natural resources is in district No. 2. The diptrict includes Lucas, Ottawa, Sandusky, Erie, Lorain, Seneca, Huron, Medina, Wyandot, Crawford, Ashland, Wayne and Richland counties.

Richland county sportsmen and farmers will make recommendations for the various committees, Heilman said today.

E. E. Seamon of Wooster, fish manager of the district, will show moving pictures at the meeting.

Fight for Love.

"Castle on the Hudson," a tempestuous love story, starring John Garfield and Ann Sheridan and Pat O'Brien, is now showing at the Ohio theater. Living in a world where there is no law, Garfield and Miss Sheridan, as sweethearts, recognize love as the only law they know, defying every force that tries to keep them apart.

* * *

Confederate Scenes.

* * *

Horror Film and Comedy.

Boris Karloff stars in the weird and fascinating horror-film "The Man They Could Not Hang," which is showing at the Majestic theater. He plays the role of a crazed scientist who returns from the dead to leave a bloody trail of vengeance across the lives of those who had him executed. Roger Pryor, Lorna Gray and Robert Wilcox are also in the cast. The second feature is "Five Little Peppers at Home," starring Edith Fellows.

* * *

Musical Theme.

Tony Martin, singer and actor, is seen in a romantic comedy "Music in My Heart," with Rita Hayworth at the Park theater. Andre Kostelanetz and his orchestra supply the musical accompaniment. Martin is a young tenor about to be deported because he isn't a citizen, but he deliberately decides to remain in the country when he meets and falls in love with an attractive young woman. The second feature is "When Germany Surrendered."

* * *

Distant Locales.

"The Real Glory," which is showing at the Ritz theater is an adventure story based on the little known phase of American history which followed the conclusion of the Spanish-American war. It deals with the heroic exploits of the Philippine Scouts. Its locale is the Philippine Islands. Gary Cooper plays the lead with Andrea Leeds and David Niven in the supporting cast. "Honeymoon in Bali" with Fred MacMurray, Madeleine Carroll and Allan Jones, is the second feature.

Seeks Congress O.K. on Wire-Tapping In Kidnap Cases

JACKSON ACTS TO LEGALIZE FBI PRACTICE

Declares Ban on 'Tapping' Handicaps Investigators in Serious Cases.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—Attorney General Robert H. Jackson, facing a congressional investigation of wire-tapping by federal bureau of investigation agents, sought congressional approval today of such tactics in kidnaping, extortion and racketeering cases.

Upon the recommendation of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, Jackson ordered all FBI agents to stop using wire-tapping to obtain evidence and suggested that congress authorize its use, "with appropriate safeguards," only in special cases. He instructed all United States attorneys and the legal staff of the justice department to refuse to prosecute cases of other federal agencies whose investigators apparently obtained evidence through wire-tapping.

Jackson said in a statement that his action was necessary to make FBI regulations conform with recent Supreme court decisions holding that "interception and divulgence of any wire communications to be forbidden by the terms of the communications act of 1934." He said the ban would handicap federal agents in "solving some extremely serious cases" involving kidnaping, extortion and racketeering where the telephone is used to convey threats and information.

"It is the opinion of the present attorney general," he added, "that wire-tapping should be authorized under some appropriate safeguard. Under the existing state of the law and decisions, this cannot be done unless congress sees fit to modify the existing statutes."

Jackson's move followed weeks of growing criticism of wire-tapping methods and adoption by the senate interstate commerce committee of a resolution proposing a $25,000 congressional inquiry into this and other alleged abuses of constitutional rights by federal, state and local police officials.

OUSTS WORKER

Mayor Fires Second Employe of Water Department.

Another water department employe, the second in the past week, had been fired from his job today by Mayor William J. Locke.

Refusing to comment on the dismissal, Locke revealed this morning that he had discharged John Ford, a pumpman at the Hedges pumping station, Saturday.

Ford was a provisional appointee having been named to the position by the mayor early in February.

Locke said the position would be filled within the next few days in order to relieve pumpmen who have been doing double duty in the past two days.

The mayor removed James E. Warrack as superintendent of the water department on March 9 for what he said was conduct unbecoming a department head. The position also remains unfilled.

SERVICES SET

Coffey, Shelby Police Chief, to Speak at Lucas.

LUCAS — LeRoy Coffey, police chief of Shelby, has been named as the speaker for the special Holy Week service scheduled for the Lucas Congregational church next Wednesday evening.

Participating in a series of four services next week are the Lucas, Little Washington and Mayflower Congregational churches.

Coffey is scheduled to speak in the Mayflower church in Mansfield on Tuesday evening and at Lucas Wednesday night.

Rev. Clarence Fairbanks of Ashland, pastor of the Lucas congregation, is scheduled as the speaker for the Little Washington service on Thursday evening.

The Friday evening service will be held in the Mayflower church, according to the announcement.

FUNERAL TODAY

BUCYRUS — Funeral services were held this afternoon in Nevada Methodist church for Mrs. Bertha Ellen Walterhouse, 70, mother of Russell Walterhouse of this city, who died at the home of another son, James, two miles south of Nevada Friday. Burial was made at Little Sandusky.

Twelve children survive with 26 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

lets lodged in the door post in the car and the other punctured a rear tire.

Mrs. Sesler, who was married in Cincinnati when she was 14, testified today that Karbula had threatened her life and called her home several times to ask for dates preceding the shooting although she had told him she was "through with him."

Sesler will report regularly to County Probation Officer Harry Crouse. Sesler's attorney, John C. O'Donnell, told the court today that Sesler has served out a two-year probation imposed in Cincinnati in June, 1935, for receiving stolen goods.

O'Donnell read a letter from the Hamilton county probation officer who said Sesler committed the offense without knowing the goods were stolen and was only "technically guilty." He said Sesler had been "well-behaved" during his probation period. The Seslers have no children.

A number of other men indicted by the grand jury were to be sentenced this afternoon by Judge Huston.

TWO INJURED

Mt. Gilead Accident Victims Brought to Mansfield.

MT. GILEAD — Two persons were injured, one seriously, and two others escaped when two automobiles collided in Mt. Gilead's business section at 1:30 p. m. today.

Most seriously hurt is Ruth Price, 43, of Columbus. She was taken to General hospital in Mansfield as was Daniel Chigges, 40, of Barberton, also injured in the crash.

Authorities said the Columbus woman's car crashed into one driven by Wake Stanton, 38, of Barberton. She lost control of the car when something went wrong with the steering apparatus, they said.

Riding with Stanton was Chigges and P. Woods, 40, of Barberton. Stanton and Woods were not hurt.

LOSE LICENSES

Two Drivers Plead Guilty to Traffic Charges.

Two drivers lost their driving rights for a year when they pleaded guilty in municipal court this morning to charges filed against them by police.

Earl Brobst, 194 South Main street, was fined $100 and costs and his operator's permit revoked when he pleaded guilty to operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol.

Officers said they arrested him Saturday at East Second and Foster streets after he had collided with a machine driven by Elmer Monroe, 369 Second avenue.

Charles Flood, R. D. 4, Mansfield, charged with failing to stop after an accident was fined $75 and costs and his driving permit revoked when he pleaded guilty. Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch suspended $50 of the fine on condition that he pay $25 damages to Earl Velzy, R. D. 3, Mansfield, whose car he allegedly struck while it was parked on Springmill street near North Mulberry street Saturday night.

FATALITIES DOWN

Fewer Rail Crossing Deaths In 1939, Railroads Announce.

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Fatalities resulting from accidents at highway-railroad grade crossings were less in 1939 than in any year since 1915, the Association of American Railroads announced today.

Fatalities resulting from highway-railroad grade crossing accidents in 1939 totaled 1,398, a decrease of 119 compared with 1938 and a decrease of 477 compared with 1937.

CONFER ON 1940 ROAD PROGRAM

Township Officials Meet With Commissioners, Engineer in First of Sessions.

Trustees from six townships were scheduled to confer today with county commissioners and County Engineer Howard Sword at the courthouse on the county and township road program for the year.

Officials from 11 other townships are due to outline their road plans at meetings Wednesday and Thursday.

Trustees from Plymouth, Cass, and Mifflin townships conferred with the county officials this morning, while the Butler, Sharon and Jackson township trustees were scheduled to meet at the courthouse this afternoon.

The schedule for the rest of the week includes:

Franklin township trustees at 9 a. m. Wednesday, Weller township at 10 a. m., Sandusky township at 11 a. m., Springfield township at 1 p. m., and Madison township at 2 p. m.

Troy township trustees at 9 a. m. Thursday, Washington township at 10 a. m., Monroe township at 11 a. m., Perry township at 1 p. m., Jefferson township at 2 p. m. and Worthington township at 3 p. m.

Except for a WPA resurfacing program, and the usual maintenance work, County Engineer Sword said the county would not be able to finance much road work this summer. Equipment will be available, however, for a certain amount of township work, he said.

U. S. GETS TRUE PICTURE OF WAR DESPITE CENSORS, EDITORS TOLD

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS— Americans know more about Europe's war than do residents of the countries involved, Ohio Associated Press editors were told yesterday.

Byron Price, executive news editor of the Associated Press, said that despite rigid censorships, reporters were supplying Americans an accurate picture of the war.

Lloyd Lehrbas, who covered for the Associated Press Germany's lightning conquest of Poland, described in an off-the-record talk the problems and hardships confronting reporters during the invasion.

The editors, who voted to hold their September meeting in Akron as guests of the Beacon-Journal, elected Dave Bowman of the Cincinnati Times-Star president to succeed John Green of the Portsmouth Times. Other officers were: Gene Moore of the Dayton Journal and Harold Johnson of the Newark Advocate, vice presidents; George Smallsreed of the Columbus Dispatch, treasurer, and F. J. Starzel, chief of the Ohio Associated Press, secretary.

A picture by Herbert Workman of the Ohio State Journal, showing a Communist flag unfurled over John L. Lewis during the recent convention here of the United Mine Workers of America, won first prize for large cities in a news picture contest. First prize for smaller papers went to Leroy Elliott of the Canton Repository for a farm scene.

Other winners for small papers were: second, prize fight by Tom Brownlee of the Warren Tribune-Chronicle; third, group of boys by Mearl Harris of the Newark Advocate, and fourth, fire picture by Elliott.

R. D. Lindsay, managing editor, John M. Schroeder, telegraph editor, and Ken Woodman, Sunday editor, represented The News-Journal at the Columbus meeting.

200 AT OPENING LENTEN SERVICE

Rev. Roller Delivers First of Series of Noon Sermons During Holy Week.

More than 200 Mansfielders turned out this noon at the First Lutheran church for the first noonday Holy Week service sponsored by the Mansfield Ministerial association.

Rev. David N. Roller, pastor of First Presbyterian church, delivered the sermon at the first service, replacing Rev. Martin W. Wappner, reformatory chaplain, who was unable to attend the service.

Rev. Roller had as his subject, "They Proclaimed Him King." Rev. Rolland Showalter, pastor of the Lincoln Heights Church of the Brethren, acted as devotional leader.

Rev. Henry H. Ford, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, will deliver the sermon at the second service tomorrow noon, with Rev. Herman L. Gilbert, pastor of the St. Paul Lutheran church, acting as devotional leader. Services begin at 12:05 p. m and continue until 12:55.

RETURN TRUSTY WHO FLED IN '36

O. S. R. Guards Bring Back Fugitive Picked Up In Defiance.

An Ohio State reformatory trusty who walked away from the Sandusky honor camp nearly four years ago was back at the institution today with two additional years to serve as penalty for his escape.

Supt. Arthur L. Glattke said the fugitive was Wilbur McBride, 38, of Montgomery county. McBride fled from the camp July 5, 1936, after serving about five years of a one to 15 year sentence for burglary and larceny. He was committed May 4, 1931. McBride was returned from Defiance when he had been picked up on suspicion by authorities. He was identified as a fugitive through fingerprints.

COUNCIL PLANS YOUTH PARTY

SHELBY—Plans for a party for the young people's societies of the Shelby church were completed for April 12 at a meeting of the United Christian Youth council, Saturday night at the home of the secretary-treasurer, Miss Jean Guenther, on East Smiley avenue.

Committees for the party were appointed at the meeting. They included th following chairmen: entertainment, Miss Guenther and Miss Hazel Mitchel; refreshments, Miss Mabel Lynch and devotions, Dawson Swisher. The party will be held at First Methodist church.

jectives. The communique said the Orkney Island airports at Stromness, Kirkwall and Earth House, as well as a number of anti-aircraft positions, were bombed.

German military experts kept secret the exact number of warplanes making the raid but said there were "a few more" than the British estimate of 14. The fliers said their planes were unscathed except for some slight damage from small fragments.

The unit leader, Major Fritz Doench, 36-year-old air veteran, said the Germans had known for days that the British home fleet was at Scapa Flow.

Others said the gathering was "unusual" and "apparently was in connection with preparations for a special undertaking."

The Nazi press spoke of "the new west front which begins at the Orkney's—meaning the whole length of the British Isles—and many Germans wondered whether the raid signalled the opening of the intense warfare that had been predicted with the approach of spring.

Heavy German Attacks Turned Back, Paris Says.

PARIS —(AP)— German attacks with the largest number of men put into action since the war started were reported by military quarters today to have been turned back by French machine-gun and artillery fire.

German patrols operating Sunday in separated sections west of the Vosges mountains and east of the Moselle river sustained what military sources described as "cruel losses" in extended operations.

At least three separate engagements occurred during the day.

The first came at dawn Sunday when French artillery observers, moving forward to posts which are not manned during the night, found Germans installed in them.

Military advices said that all positions temporarily occupied by the Germans were retaken.

Along the Rhine, French and German troops exchanged rapid rounds of machine-gun fire while loudspeakers on both sides blared propaganda messages.

Such activity was reported to have reached a new intensity. (Guns of the Maginot line, according to a report from Basel, Switzerland, yesterday blasted propaganda billboards on the German side which bore the slogan, "do not sacrifice yourself for the English.")

Allied and German aerial forces made several reconnaissances over each other's territory despite unfavorable weather, it was reported.

GET STATE AID

City, County Alloted $4,862 in Relief Funds.

The state welfare department today allocated $4,862 to the city and county to help pay direct relief costs for February which mounted to the highest figure in a year.

The distribution of state funds, totaling 39.8 per cent of the relief costs, will give the city and county $2,431 each. They must meet the rest of the bills from their own funds. Relief costs for the month were $12,252 in the city and county.

The relief burden was heavier all over Ohio, with the cities and counties reporting expenditures amounting to $2,511,824. Officials said the cold weather which halted many WPA projects was responsible.

Approximately $22,000 in relief bond retirement funds which will not be needed for bonds will be released in Mansfield and Richland county this week, enabling the districts to meet their relief bills handily this month.

R. V. Clay, general manager of the company, said about 44 men, working as a unit, were trapped about three miles from the mine entrance. The other 27 were in scattered groups nearby when the explosion struck.

Ralph Sutton and John Marks were reported by a rescue worker as among the known dead.

John Richards, mine superintendent, and Howard Sanders, tipple foreman, died in an early rescue attempt without gas masks. Many of the 115 rescued from the mine required treatment for gas fumes.

The mine, termed a "drift" because it entered the coal vein from a hillside, was regarded as one of the nation's safest. It produced approximately 4,400 tons of coal daily and employed about 500 men.

JAIL 4 SUSPECTS

Quartet Accused of Murder of Kentucky Deputy.

(By United Press)

LEXINGTON, Ky.—Four men were held in Fayette county jail today, charged with the slaying of Wilson Deaton, son and deputy of Sheriff Walter Deaton of feuding, "bloody" Breathitt county. The men were arrested in their mountain homes after young Deaton was shot to death on a highway.

Deaton was killed Saturday. His father said that he had attempted to stop a fight between four men. The mountaineers who were held are Edward Haddix, 18, Ollie Spencer, 35, "Little Tom" Salyers, 19, and his brother, Woodrow, 21.

The shooting was the second in less than a month involving the Deaton family. Wilson's brother, Fred, also a deputy, was wounded in a pistol duel with Lewis Combs, former county Democratic chairman on a downtown Jackson, Ky., street last month. Combs was wounded fatally and Fred was indicted for murder.

C. M. BANKS, 71, DIES AT LUCAS

One of 11 Brothers, One Sister, Stricken After Short Illness; Funeral Tuesday.

LUCAS — A family circle of eleven brothers and one sister suffered its first break by death early Sunday morning when Charles M. Banks, 71, well known Lucas citizen died after an illness of a few days.

A native of Washington township, and a life-long resident of Richland county, Mr. Banks had been a resident of the Lucas community for many years where he was a carpenter.

A son of David and Sarah (Pulver) Banks, the deceased was born on a farm west of Lucas on August 15, 1868.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Anna Woodring Banks, two sons, Floyd, of Lucas, and John, of Canton, and a daughter, Mrs. Alfred Vail, of Lucas.

Also surviving are eight brothers, Thomas, Delbert and Nelson Banks, all of Washington township, Lewis and Frank, of Mansfield, Benjamin, of east of Lucas, James and Harve, of Washington, Iowa; two half-brothers, Gaylord Banks, of Lexington, and Filmore Banks, of Mansfield; and one sister, Mrs. Olive Tingley, of Mansfield.

Following a brief service at the family home Tuesday afternoon at 1:30, the body will be removed to the Lucas Congregational church where it will lie in state until 2:30 when public funeral services will be held with Rev. Clarence Fairbanks officiating.

Burial will be made in the I. O. O. F. cemetery near Lucas.

Friends may call at the Banks home in Lucas until time for the funeral.

Girl Scouts Top Goal in Campaign To Sell Cookies

The downtown sale is conducted on Saturdays at the Third Street market, the U-Save market, Montgomery-Ward store, Buehler's market, and the Gas company office.

The girls sold 266 boxes in their first downtown sale a week ago and are now looking forward to distributing 4,000 boxes by the end of March.

In addition to the sale in the business section, the Girl Scouts are taking orders for the cookies at home, according to Miss Eleanor Bond, executive secretary. Orders at home will be taken up to March 22, and deliveries will be made March 30.

FURNACES HEAT 71 PER CENT OF DWELLINGS HERE

RPI Survey Shows City Leads State in Both Electric, Gas Refrigeration.

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the seventh of a series of articles on the work and findings of the Real Property Inventory, better known as the RPI, conducted by the WPA in Mansfield.

* * *

By HAROLD K. MANSFIELD
Director, Real Property Inventory

Heating, lighting, cooking, and refrigeration equipment all add to the comfort of living and will be considered in today's article.

Central steam or hot water heat is used in 938 of our dwelling units or 7.8 per cent of the total. In 135 representative cities in the northeast section of the United States in which surveys were made during the years 1934 through 1936, it was found that 35.3 per cent of a total of over four million dwellings were heated by means of central steam or hot water systems.

The favorite type of heating equipment in the Mansfield survey area is the central warm air furnace, which is used to furnish heat in 7668 or 63.8 per cent of our homes. Only 32.9 per cent of the homes in the other northeastern cities use this type of heat.

Combining the percentages above shows that 71.1 per cent of our homes are heated by furnaces while 68.2 per cent of the total dwellings in the 135 cities have furnace heat.

Other installed heating such as stoves and fireplaces account for 3476 of our homes or 28.7 per cent, while 28 homes or 0.2 per cent of the total have no heating equipment whatever installed.

Less than 1 per cent of our homes use gas for lighting. We have 81 gas lit homes which is 0.7 per cent of the total. Electric lighting, of course, is in overwhelming majority, representing 97.9 per cent of our dwellings. There are 166 homes or 1.4 per cent which use neither gas nor electricity for lighting.

The national figures on lighting were put in only two classifications: electric or gas, and other. In the northeast section 2.9 per cent of the homes use neither gas nor electricity for lighting as compared to our figure of 1.4 per cent, while the figure for the United States as a whole is 4.4 per cent.

Leads In Electric Cooking.

For cooking, the gas and electric ratios are reversed; however, Mansfield has a higher percentage of her homes equipped with electric ranges than any other of the 12 Ohio cities on which we have reports. Electricity is used for cooking in Mansfield in 727 homes or 6 per cent of the total while Ashtabula is next with 5.5 per cent of her homes. There are 10,511 dwellings in and around Mansfield using gas for cooking, representing 86.7 per cent of all our homes.

Other installed cooking facilities account for 837 homes or 6.9 per cent. There is no installed cooking equipment in 43 homes or .4 per cent of the total homes. This is a total of 7.3 per cent as compared to 10.6 per cent that have other or none installed in the northeast section of the United States.

In refrigeration, Mansfield is in a class by itself as over half of our homes have electric refrigeration. That type is used in 6273 of our dwelling units which is 51.9 per cent of the total. Of the 12 Ohio cities enumerated during the years 1934 through 1936, Steubenville's percentage comes closest to ours but is only 36.0 per cent. For the total homes in all 12 cities, 27 per cent were reported as using electric refrigeration.

We are also high in the use of gas refrigeration with 529 homes or 4.4 per cent of the total so equipped. Salem is second to Mansfield with 2.9 per cent of her families using gas refrigeration. Only 1.5 per cent of the total homes in all 12 cities had this equipment.

Ice is used in 3547 of our dwelling units or 29.3 per cent of the total. Fifty-eight and five-tenths per cent of the homes in the other 12 Ohio cities acclaim ice as their favorite refrigerant.

Now we come to a paradox in the whole story of refrigeration. While Mansfield is far ahead of her sister communities in mechanical refrigeration equipment, we find she also has the largest percentage with no refrigeration of any type. We have 1743 homes or 14.4 per cent of the total without any refrigeration while the figure for the 12 cities is 13.0 per cent.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, MONDAY, MARCH 18, 1940.

Weather forecasts are at least proving more reliable nowadays—even if you don't like them.

It appears that the Finnish incident was concluded before any of the Russian sympathizers in this country had to rush back to help.

More trouble in higher education. Freshmen at the University of Pittsburgh kick about getting only fifty cents an hour for odd jobs when athletes with priority status get ninety cents.

Get Acquainted With Candidates

WHETHER it is because of increased attractiveness of public offices, or due to fewer opportunities for remunerative employment in industry, business or the professions, an unusually large number of candidates are in the field seeking nomination to county, district and state offices at the May 14 primaries.

With national conventions coming along in June and July, after the active pre-primary campaigning in store for the next couple of months, this promises to be a lively spring, summer and fall for those sufficiently interested in politics to keep tab on developments.

The responsibility resting on Democratic and Republican voters between now and May 14 is to learn as much as possible about each of the candidates engaged in a contest for nomination, so that the nominees of both parties will reflect the judgment of a majority or plurality of the voters as to the candidate best qualified to perform the duties of the office to which he aspires.

Under the petition system of qualifying for candidacy at the primaries, it is quite easy for anybody to become a candidate, without regard for qualifications, past record, or anything of the sort. It is therefore up to the voters to scan the lists and get information about each of the candidates with whom they are not personally acquainted, so that they will be in position to vote intelligently in choosing their party candidates.

In county contests it is not difficult for practically every voter to become acquainted with all of the candidates for various offices but this is impossible in connection with district and state offices. A well-informed electorate can go far in assuring competency in public service by making sure that competent and dependable men are nominated at the primaries.

Honesty In Small Things

THE incident related in today's "Farmer's Diary," elsewhere on this page, merits thoughtful reading by parents of young children and by everyone who is interested in child-training or youth problems.

The boy, of whom Calvin A. Byers tells in this article, appears to have been taught one important thing that some children miss—to their later detriment.

This important thing is that HONESTY IS NOT A MATTER OF THE AMOUNT INVOLVED.

Dishonesty, as applied to the handling of money, can be in pennies as well as in dollars, or in thousands of dollars. It is most likely to start in a small way, through lack of training in early childhood, and develop into a habit that can result in theft, embezzlement, breach of trust, shoplifting, or other offenses which disregard property rights of others.

Honesty is an acquired trait of character—not an inherited attribute. No very young child distinguishes between what belongs to him and what is the property of someone else. This is among the things that he must learn from parents, teachers and associates.

Unless he learns this, and other rules of conduct essential to well-behaved citizenship, during the years of childhood, there is a danger that he will miss them entirely, as has been the case with many young, and older persons who drifted into juvenile delinquency and later criminal careers, as a result of lack of early training in the essentials of honesty.

Reference is made to the incident related by Mr. Byers in the hope that it will come to the notice of some parents who may not have full realization of the importance of this phase of child-training.

Soups and Vitamins

A VISITOR at a recent food show expresses amazement at the quantity and variety of "dried soups" available nowadays. You just add a little water, and maybe a bit of butter, and warm 'em up, and presto! You have something that grandma would have taken half a day to prepare. There are powdered mushrooms and potato meal and all kinds of time and step savers.

And then vitamins! Everybody wants these little miracle-workers. You can get 'em in pills or in cocktails. And such cocktails! There are mixing machines to help with the concoctions. You can just toss in a little pineapple and orange juice and maybe a bit of banana and spinach and a small handful of nuts and raisins and a trace of apple, and push the button, and presto, there you have it.

Another recipe for a health cocktail calls for carrots, beets, spinach, parsley, lettuce, celery, onions and garlic—roots, leaves and all—whipped, chopped, emulsified, liquefied and served in a sort of glass that would lead an experienced tippler to expect something quite different.

Ineffective Wise-Cracks

POLICE COMMISSIONER VALENTINE of New York City believes that "insulting, sarcastic and wise-cracking" traffic cops are less efficient than courteous ones. He looks forward to a day when traffic summonses will be reduced by half and when the officer who bawls out motorists will be as extinct as the dodo.

"There is no necessity for half the summonses that are issued," he told a group of officers. "On many occasions a kind admonition will do, and may be many times more effective than a summons. When police action is necessary, don't abuse or humiliate a person. We are not trying to build up a record of a million summonses a year."

The record any traffic department ought to be trying to build up is one of traffic well-handled, moving steadily and freely without jams and accidents. Experience suggests that those officers succeed best who handle the motoring public courteously and firmly.

A 10,000-word complaint has been filed by a Pittsburgh husband seeking divorce—probably including all he didn't get an opportunity to say.

It takes time to incubate an improved liquor law.

Watching Trends

—By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Some of these people who sit in the seats of the nation's mighty high salaries are going to be taken down a few pegs.

Before many moons Secretary Mongenthau's Internal Revenue gang is going to give that list of 400 top salaries published back in January a whale of a shaking up. It'll come in the form of an additional list and after it's made public, the "400" is not going to be quite so exclusive. One guess, and it's a darned good one, considering the source, is that the new list will show 200 more persons who dragged down over $75,000 in 1938.

Prodded for an explanation of why they didn't put the whole list out in the first place, the treasury boys said their bookkeepers just weren't caught up when congress met and called for the salary figures. Putting out a partial list was a mistake they won't make again. The deluge of queries and complaints has been a headache. Now some of the first-rate salaries advertised in January are going to appear second-rate—that is, if you can call any salary in the $75,000-and-up bracket second-rate.

The suggestion already has been passed along to Mr. Morganthau that he title the completed list "America's 600 Families," but shucks, you know how literal-minded he is.

* * *

V-P's In the Money.

WHAT'S principally going to upset the big apples in the 1938 salary cart is that the movie companies, Loew's, Inc., and its subsidiary, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and Warner brothers are going to be in the new list. The packing companies will also be in the revised list, but that won't make much difference. The slaughterhouse bigwigs never were in a class with the movie crowd. You can't expect salaries for feeding the people like those for entertaining them.

Right off the bat, you can expect to see the soapsuds king, F. A. Countway, president of Lever Bros., washed out of first place as the nation's highest-paid corporation executive. Louis B. Mayer, production executive of Loew's will see to that. In 1937, Mayer was paid $1,161,753 for executiving, plus a measly little $134,750 for vice-presidencing for MGM. Now, if Mr. Mayer had taken any big cut in 1938, surely that gossipy village of Hollywood would have heard. But suppose it didn't and suppose Mr. Mayer was told he wasn't worth more than half that. His salary still would be more than $600,000 and that's enough to push Mr. Countway out of first place so fast it'll look as if he skidded on a bar of his own soap.

If Loew's and MGM are still paying the same old salaries, Mr. Countway won't even finish second, because in 1937 they paid J. Robert Rubin $651,123 for being vice-president and N. M. Schenck (his friends call him "Nick") $489,602 for being president. That's another screwy thing about the movie business, V-P's sometimes get more money than presidents.

Whether the Brothers Warner will come in there is something else to speculate on. As a matter of fact, Countway, with his $469,713 pay envelope, may not even be in the running.

* * *

What About Claudette?

IT'S a pretty good bet, too, that Claudette Colbert, with her $301,944.51, won't hold her place as the highest-paid-actress and the nation's No. 1 female breadwinner. Greta Garbo works for MGM you know. Her 1937 salary was $172,499 and Garbo never was a girl to work for less this year than she was making last. She's had a contract for year's and if it's on a sliding scale, it isn't down. There's Bette Davis to be heard from, too and Joan Crawford, whose contract always has called for big money. And Jeanette MacDonald and Myrna Loy — and among the actors, Clark Gable, William Powell, Paul Muni and Edward G. Robinson. Those boys don't work for pennies.

All in all, the completed list should make a pretty fair showing for 1938. With 600 men and women drawing down more than $75,000, it couldn't have been exactly a depression year.

These top-salaried men come mostly from that population group numbering 24,000,000 Americans over 35 years old. That means there's about one chance in 40,000 of you or me or Neighbor Jones getting into that kind of money.

'Big Shots' Do the Nominating

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

NATIONAL straw polls continue to indicate Tom Dewey as the strongest probability for the Republican presidential nomination next summer, with Senator Robert A. Taft in third place at best. In Washington, where politicians are concentrated, the local verdict favors Taft rather than Dewey.

Of course, Washington's preference shouldn't be interpreted as implying that Taft would run more formidably than Dewey the country over. Chances are that the rank-and-file of straw voters know what they're talking about as to ELECTION day, but the professional politicians may be better guessers relative to the NOMINATION.

The idea's this:

The general public fancies that it picks presidential candidates. The bosses, however, pick the candidates between whom the general public makes its final selection.

The general public, in short, has precious little voice concerning the doings at our big quadrennial conventions. The party managers run them. If they don't like an aspirant he stands mighty little show of being named as his outfit's standard bearer, no matter how popular he may be with mere ordinary voters.

New York's Famous Convention.

There was an example of this at the celebrated New York Democratic convention which nominated John W. Davis for the White House.

Throughout the nation a big majority of Democrats unquestionably were for William G. McAdoo. Newton D. Baker made a pro-McAdoo speech that was a humdinger. The spectators in the galleries went wild over it. If the occupants of those galleries had been entitled to cast their ballots, William G. would have been nominated in a walk. Nobody present questioned it.

But the convention bosses vetoed the obvious party verdict.

In all likelihood the time wasn't ripe for a Democratic victory that year, anyway. Yet assuredly McAdoo wouldn't have been snowed under at the polls as badly as Davis was. The fact remains, it was a demonstration of the usual rule that, while the "peepul" frequently do the electing, the bosses generally attend to the nominating.

The entire electorate, to be controlled, has to be spell-bound. A convention can be managed.

The point is that management precedes spell-binding.

Dewey Versus Taft.

Now, Tom Dewey relies on spell-binding. He's a genius at it—by far Taft's superior.

Tom, though, has neglected the fixing of the G. O. P. high commanders. Taft has concentrated on THEM. His notion is that the first thing is to be NOMINATED. After that perhaps he'll tear loose and do some spell-binding. I imagine he never will be so inspired a spell-binder as Dewey, but that won't help Dewey if Taft is NOMINATED.

Hence the expert politicians' inclination to gamble on Taft for the NOMINATION Democratic experts agree with Republican experts. They're not discussing ELECTION.

Plenty of Others.

It goes without saying that Dewey and Taft aren't the only Republican possibilities.

On straw polls, Senator Arthur H. Vanderberg is about midway between Dewey and Taft. He's a good boss-fixer and a good spell-binder—not quite as crafty a fixer as Taft or as thrilling a spell-binder as Dewey. Still, averaging things up, he may be entitled to a higher rating than either of the other two, reckoned with separately. He isn't an announced Republican candidate, though. Therefore, he's a bit difficult to estimate accurately.

And then, there are a lot of Republican dark horses.

Heaven knows, parenthetically, that Senator Styles Bridges isn't a dark horse. He's positively pyrotechnic, but his fireworks don't count for practical purposes.

Dewey, Taft and Vandenberg are the three really politically conspicuous Republicans.

Listen, World!

He Owes You Nothing, Lady!

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

WHY does the average wife believe that her husband owes her a perpetual debt because she married him, and feel that everything she does for said husband is a favor which he can never sufficiently repay?

You haven't conferred any more of a favor on the big boy by marrying him, sister, than he has conferred on you. You wanted him as much as he wanted you, and worked as hard to get him. Maybe harder!

And he sacrificed as much for the deal as you did. It's a serious thing for a girl to put her life in a man's keeping, but it's just as serious for a man to put his life in a girl's keeping; and girlish dreams are not a particle more precious than bovish illusions. A boy can think as much romantic nonsense in a second as a girl can in a year and it hurts him just as hard to be jarred out of it.

Tradition to the contrary, it's the groom who is usually all in a twitter, not the bride. She knows what she's all about, but he's betting on a couple of deuces. If anyone should wear the tulle and rosebuds, he should!

"But I sacrificed my freedom for my husband! you cry.

Well, how about HIS freedom? You gummed up his liberty quite as much as he gummed up yours; and, in addition to giving up liberty, he acquired the upkeep of another healthy human—plus possible additions.

"See how hard I worked for him!"

See how hard he worked for you! And why, at any rate, should you regard your work as such an amazing performance? Wouldn't you have to work, even if you hadn't married him? And wouldn't you have had to endure the normal amount of snubs, indifference, bad temper and backache incident to any job?

Then, why consider yourself an uncrowned martyr because you've elected to earn your living by keeping house, instead of typing letters or selling notions?

WHY SHOULD A GIRL, WHO COULD NEVER QUALIFY FOR MORE THAN A TWENTY DOLLAR JOB WHEN SHE WAS SINGLE, EXPECT MILLION-DOLLAR SERVICE AFTER SHE'S MARRIED—AND BEEF ABOUT IT EVEN WHEN SHE GETS THAT?

"But I gave him the best years of my youth?"

You did nothing of the sort, sister. Your youth passed. You didn't give it to him—it just vamoosed, as all youth vamooses. Growing old is nobody's fault. Why put him in the dog house because time passes?

Be reasonable, lady! Your husband doesn't owe you any more than you owe him. You elected to say, "I DO," and most of you worked overtime to get the chance to say it. You were wise.

Generally speaking, there's no finer job on earth than that of being a wife or mother. If, in your case, it didn't turn out to be a good job, get out—as you'd get out from any other bad job. But if you stay in—act regular.

WASHINGTON Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—There is a very good reason why newspaper cables regarding the peace mission of Under Secretary of State Welles are so meager. He isn't saying anything about his conversations to a soul except the president of the United States.

Not even Secretary of State Hull is in on all of the Welles reports, though he gets them second-hand from Roosevelt. Virtually no other member of the state department knows anything about the progress Welles is making.

Confidential fact is that before Welles departed, he worked out a private code with the president. This code consists of numbers, so that Welles wires back a number and only the president knows what that number means. Thus it is impossible for the Nazis, British or anyone else to break down the code.

Welles' code cables are sent to Secretary Hull, who, in turn, takes them to the president, who personally decodes them. After Welles' conversation with Hitler, he cabled back a single number, and Mr. Hull took the number over to the White House, gave it to the President.

The president did a little figuring, then said: "Doesn't look so good, does it?"

Note—The Welles reports are so brief that obviously he and the president are counting chiefly on personal conversations after his return.

* * *

FDR and the Lenses.

REMARKED Tony Muto, newsreel impresario, of the president of the United States:

"That guy could wear a gunny sack and nobody would know it. He's got a personality that steals the show. His facial mannerisms are dramatic, and nobody sees anything else."

Roosevelt was not wearing a gunny sack, but a black velvet smoking jacket when he and Henry Wallace were broadcasting from the "radio room" of the White House the other evening. The occasion was the AAA dinners for farmers throughout the country, and the president, a veteran in such matters, was offering his secretary of agriculture a little good humored coaching before they began to speak.

He explained to Henry that the newsreels would use three lenses during each talk—a small lens for a distance shot, a larger lens for the middle range, and finally a big lens for a close-up.

"That's the lens you've got to watch, Henry," said the president. "That big one is the boudoir lens; it shows up all the blemishes!"

Note—The president also has the actor's faculty of being a "quick study." He reads his speech once or twice in advance, then while the camera is on him he appears to be speaking without notes. Actually he takes a quick look at every line or two.

* * *

Capital Chaff.

ALICIA PATTERSON GUGGENHEIM, daughter of N. Y. News Publisher Joe Patterson, may start a live-wire liberal paper in snooty, blase Long Island. . . . Representative John Taber of New York rose on the House floor, wrathfully demanded a public airing of government bureaucrats who were squandering money by junketing in Florida. Simultaneously, five investigators of his own special committee probing WPA were basking at government expense in the Miami sunshine. . . . "John Paris" is in Washington to settle blockade disputes between the U. S. and British governments. "John Paris" is the pen name of Frank Ashton-Gwatkin, author of the novel on Japanese life titled "Kimono." . . . Robert E. Lynch, able new general counsel of the Dies committee, is one of the few Americans who saw Lenin. He accompanied Ambassador Bill Bullitt to Russia when Woodrow Wilson sent Bill to report on the Bolshevik revolution.

* * *

WPA Budget.

IT'S being kept under cover, but the big problem worrying the White House inner circle is what to do about the new WPA appropriation.

In his January budget message, the president tentatively fixed a figure of $1,000,000,000 ($500,000,000 less than the current appropriation), but left the door open for upward revision in the spring if unemployment conditions warranted.

At that time, production indices, under European war stimulus were at record levels. Since then they have dropped precipitously, the fall in January being the severest on record. Steel output, for example, is off 30 per cent.

Result is that unemployment is increasing (government experts estimate it around 9,500,000), and WPA is being besieged for more relief. In its files are applications from 1,000,000 jobless who are eligible for aid but can't be helped because of no funds.

The big debate inside the inner circle is whether Roosevelt should stand on his original $1,000,000,000 estimate or ask congress for $1,500,000,000.

The economizers are against this. They contend that a pickup in the spring is certain and that by July, when the new budget goes into effect, business will be humming. Also, to ask for more money, they claim, would be bad political strategy, precipitate a row in Congress, prolong the session, and give the GOP a golden chance to chide the New Deal.

The spenders admit this likelihood but warn that unless more money is poured into relief there is serious danger of a bad slump in the autumn. They deny there is any certainty of a business upturn in the spring, hold that it's only a guess and that the wise course is to take no chances, ask for money.

* * *

WPA Compromise.

SUGGESTED as a compromise is that Roosevelt stand on his original $1,000,000,000 figure but put no time limit on its expenditure.

This would wipe out the present requirement that WPA must allocate its funds to stretch over a 12-month period. Under the proposed compromise WPA could lump its expenditures this summer and seek a deficiency grant next February or March.

The current WPA roll is 2,300,000, the peak under its present budget. Beginning in April this figure will be slashed monthly until it is brought down to around 1,600,000 in June, the last month of the fiscal year. Another 300,000 will have to be dropped in July if WPA funds continue as per schedule. Thus a million jobless would be fired by August.

The final decision is up to Roosevelt. And he hasn't a lot of time, since the house appropriations committee has fixed March 25 to begin its secret deliberations on relief. The president will have to fish or cut bait by then.

They Can Be Proud

(A FARMER'S DIARY)

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

IT HAPPENED at a village postoffice where I had stopped to buy some stamps. It was near closing time and a line of six had formed in front of the window. At the end was a boy of ten or twelve, with ruddy cheeks and patched trousers, who bought three stamped envelopes and some single stamps.

"Eleven cents out of a dollar," said the clerk, giving him his change.

The lad took the money hesitantly and, still counting it, walked over to the desk where he laid the change on top. He affixed the stamps to a letter he had brought, and addressed two of the newly purchased envelopes, putting enclosures into them. With a sense of responsible pride he licked the stamps and carefully sealed the letters. Then he looked once more at each address and dropped them, one by one, into the letter slot.

That attended to, he picked up the change from off the desk and shyly approached the window where he laid it in the opening beneath the grill.

The clerk was not so busy now. "What's wrong son? Didn't I give you money enough? You should have counted your change before you left the window—now I'm not responsible, but I'll listen to you. What's the trouble?"

The boy blushed. "No sir, it wasn't my mistake," he said. "I wanted to wait long enough to be sure I was right. You gave me six cents too much. I suppose you forgot the stamps—see?"

The clerk recounted the money. "That's right, and I thank you," he said kindly. "But how come you were so anxious to give it back? Not every person is so particular about his Uncle Sam. They figure he'll never miss it."

"My dad always says it ain't the amount a fellow takes that matters so much, nor who he takes it from—if it ain't his he'd better let it alone. Because if he takes a little bit one time it makes it easier to take more the next—and he gets to be a thief, before he knows it. We don't want no thieves in our family," he added.

"Him and that Dad of his can be proud of one another," said the clerk ungrammatically to me, as the lad went out.

"Like father, like son," I mused. "Homes such as that boy came from make the world a better place in which to live."

CHAPTER XXII.

They did not go to the fashionable place which Star knew Milton had frequented with Jennifer. Instinctively he sought those restaurants which held no ghosts. Occasionally they danced but more often they had a quiet dinner and went to a movie after which he took her to her boarding house. At the office he would ask, "Where shall we go tonight?" and Star would powder her nose and put on her hat telling herself she was the happiest girl in the world even though she knew it meant nothing and could not last.

It didn't. There came a night when they had been dancing together. It was on Saturday, and although no plans had been made for the following day Star assumed they would spend it as usual. But all evening she had sensed something strained in their ordinary comfortable conversation. Milton's eyes had avoided hers. When they danced he held her slightly, releasing her instantly as soon as the music stopped. She felt as if he were pushing her away from him, but her sensitive mind, running back over the events of that day, could find no reason for it. To be sure there had been another letter from Jennifer, which Star had answered by cabling more money, but there was nothing unusual about that.

On the way home he remained so silent that she finally had to ask, "Is something worrying you?"

"No. Why?"

"I feel that there is something wrong," she insisted.

When they reached the boarding house he took her hand and said, "I can't fool you, can I? You are right. I am very much disturbed."

"I knew it. Don't you want to tell me?"

He shook his head.

"I can't, Star. Good night."

He had left, making no mention of the next day. It would be the first Sunday since Jennifer went away that he had not spent with her.

* * *

Confused and worried, Star forced herself to stay away from the yacht harbor where she suspected Milton Wood was working on his boat. If he did not wish to confide in her, there was nothing she could do about it. She could not force her company upon him if he preferred to be alone.

But the utter loneliness of that Sunday without him compelled her to realize how much she had begun to depend on him. She had been away from the boarding house so many evenings that she had lost touch with her former friends who had learned to plan their week-ends without her. Nothing to do except visit Mamie who would not care whether or not she came so long as the money she wanted was provided.

Star spent the day mending clothes and straightening up drawers and her closet. In the afternoon she took a walk, finding her steps turn unconsciously in the direction of the yacht harbor, but she did not go there. Instead she went to a movie and finally to bed with a sigh of relief that the long hours were past.

Monday morning found her at her desk 10 minutes early. She could scarcely wait for her employer to appear. When he did, he looked as if he had not slept. His eyes avoided hers and for the first time she wondered if he had become bored with her companionship. Perhaps he was tired of seeing her all day and in the evening, too. After all he had so many friends and was constantly being invited places. He could be busy every night in the week if he desired. He had been avoiding dates since Jennifer left, accepting only those which were necessary from a business standpoint. Now she found to her dismay that he was accepting anything and everything that came his way. The first invitation proferred was jotted down on his calender without regard (or so it seemed to his secretary) for what it was.

His attitude to her that entire week was not unkind but completely impersonal. Night after night Star sat in her room heartsick, with a feeling of absolute frustration.

What was the matter with him? What had she done? He not only did not ask her to dine with him but he did not mention the fact that he was unable to do so. She could see for herself that every night in the week was taken but when the week-end arrived, Sunday had been left free. Was he planning to see her then?

* * *

By Saturday noon Star had worked herself into a state of nerves the more agonizing because it must be concealed. She had forced herself to appear cheerfully unaware of any change in his attitude. She had been the efficient, silently sympathetic secretary but at a cost which registered now in her trembling hands. She turned jittery with hope that he would ask her to spend Sunday with him, fear that he would not. If he didn't—what should she do?

Milton had a luncheon engagement and a dinner party for Saturday night. As he passed through her office, he said hastily, "Goodbye, Star be good."

So then he did not intend to see over the week-end either? Star's heart plunged like a rapidly descending elevator making no stops. How could he treat her like this? What had happened? What had Jennifer said in that letter which had arrived a week ago? Would Jennifer have nerve enough to tell him of Star's threat without admitting the reason for it?

Never had Star felt as she did that night. She longed then for diversion of any kind. If only Clifford Payne or Bruce Donovan would ask her for a date. But they were not even present at the boarding house table that evening. Only those who habitually had no dates sat down to the table on Saturdays. Star joined them, ignoring their surprise.

"Well," one of the women commented, "This is unusual for you, isn't it?"

Star smiled and answered vaguely. Later she decided to call upon Mamie but when she reached the apartment her mother was out. Every one in the city seemed to have something to do but Star. She went back to her room and to bed, but not to sleep. Something had spoiled her relationship with Milton. A wall had suddenly sprung up between them.

Why?

"At least he might try to explain it to me," Star sighed.

* * *

Although it was late before she slept, she was awake early the following morning, too nervous to remain in bed, she rose and dressed. Suddenly she knew she was going to the yacht harbor. She had to go. He might not be there. Some one else might be with him, in which case she would not stop. But she had to know whether he was deliberately avoiding her.

Ten o'clock found her swinging past the long lines of yachts and cruisers snugly tucked into their berths. Her eyes outrunning her feet picked out the Adventuress. No one was visible and Star's heart sank but the lure the small craft had for her pulled her like a magnet. At the next moment Milton came on deck and saw her.

"Why, Star," he cried, "what are you doing down here?"

He did not sound annoyed, only surprised as he gave her his hand and led the way into the cabin.

"It was such a nice day I couldn't resist the temptation," she began, trying to be casual and failing as she saw that his face had become suddenly grim.

"What's the matter?" Star pleaded, unable to bear it any longer. "Please tell me."

The words seemed to be forced from him.

"Can't you guess?"

She shook her head.

"Maybe you are just tired of seeing me so often."

"I could never be tired of you!" he cried.

Her blue eyes, shining with surprise and delight met his.

"Then why did you stop?"

"I had to stop. It was all right as long as we didn't care—but now . . ."

"You mean that because we do care it has to end?"

He took her hands and his voice was very gentle as he said, "I'm married, Star, and his voice was very gentle as he said, "I'm married, Star, and I intend to remain that way. I've nothing whatever to offer you."

"It's all my fault," he continued when she did not speak. "I should have thought of this sooner. . . ."

Never Misses Opportunity To Speak Well of "Vendol"

Farmer's wife near Mansfield is grateful for wonderful relief obtained by taking this popular medicine. Relieved constipation, indigestion, gas in stomach.

MRS. JOE H. PALMER

"I was a victim of constipation for a long time and took about all the things suggested to me for it but Vendol has proven the finest thing I ever tried," said Mrs. Joe H. Palmer, residing on route five, Mansfield, wife of a prosperous farmer well known all over the neighborhood, to the Vendol Man in Central Drug Store.

"When I wasn't regular it caused many troubles. My head would ache, tongue showed a white coating, breath became bad, had a brassy taste in my mouth every morning and I just felt tired and sluggish all the time.

"Another result of this constipation was indigestion, sour stomach, gas, acid risings, bloating, and 'heartburn' and got me to where I hated to have to eat knowing how I'd suffer later.

"Vendol was so popular and highly praised by good people all around here that I began taking it along with the little Vendol laxative tablets and that was exactly what I needed.

"It cleared out my bowels thoroughly, so I kept taking it and with this complete evacuation I began to feel like myself again and now I never have a headache, dizzy feeling, pain or stomach upset. Vendol is wonderful so I never miss a chance to speak well of this excellent medicine."

In many cases of indigestion, sour stomach, dizziness, sluggish, "all in" feeling, pains in the back and limbs, the cause can be traced to constipation or need of a kidney diuretic. Vendol, an extract of finest roots and herbs with alkalines added for extra benefits, gives gratifying relief from constipation in an easy, pleasant way. Give it a chance to help you.

See the Vendol Man at Central Drug Store, Cor. Main & Fourth Sts., and he will explain all about this reliable family medicine. Vendol is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

"THANKS FOR A LOVELY EVENING..."

A new kind of beer retailing is bringing wholesome recreation to millions of Americans!

America's new kind of beer retailer wants to sell good beer, of course . . . but he is also keenly aware of his social responsibility to the community. He makes sure that his place is clean and inviting—and scrupulously free of anti-social influences of any kind.

The Brewing Industry wants all of beer's retailers to be of this type. We do not want any other kind. And we are taking action to eliminate any abuses in beer retailing that may occur.

We have instituted a new plan . . . now in effect in a few states and being extended as rapidly as possible . . . to protect your right to drink good beer in decent surroundings. May we tell you about it . . . in an interesting free booklet? Write: United Brewers Industrial Foundation, 19 East 40th Street, New York, N. Y.

HOW YOU CAN GET A $100 LOAN IF YOU CAN PAY BACK $4.46 A MONTH

No endorsers or guarantors needed — No credit questions asked of friends or relatives— Prompt, private service.

You can get cash simply and promptly at Household Finance, if you can repay your loan in monthly installments. You may repay in very small installments if you prefer. Or you may make larger payments in order to pay up sooner. From the table below you choose the payment schedule which fits your own needs and your own income.

Pick your own payment schedule

Suppose you need $100 and can conveniently repay $9.46 a month. The table shows that your installments will repay a $100 loan from Household Finance in full in twelve months. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $4.46 a month for thirty months will also repay a $100 loan.

Find the amount of cash you need in the first column of the loan table. Then read across, picking out the monthly payment that you can conveniently make out of your regular monthly income.

Sooner you repay your loan the less it costs

Note, in the last column of the table, that you may make very small payments if you prefer. See also that the sooner you repay, the less your loan costs. Four installments of $26.26 each, for instance, will repay a $100 loan in full. The cost in this case is only $5.04. (All payments shown in the table include the charges. You pay nothing more.)

One rate to everyone

Household has only one price —the same rate to all, whether new customers or former borrowers.

What you do to borrow

All you do to get a Household Finance loan is acquaint us with your needs. We require no salary or wage assignment, no stocks or bonds. (Loans are made on furniture, car or note.) No questions regarding your credit are asked of friends or relatives, neither do you have to ask friends or fellow-workers to sign the loan papers with you. You get your loan promptly, privately and without embarrassment.

Study the loan and payment table. See how you can repay the loan you need with a small part of your pay check. Then phone or visit us today. You will be under no obligation to borrow.

WE GUARANTEE the total amount figured by using this table to be the full amount you will pay, when payments are made on schedule. You will pay less if you pay your loan ahead of time since you pay charges only for the actual time you have the money. Payments are calculated at Household's rates of 2% per month on loans up to $300 and 1½% per year on balances above $300 up to $500. These rates are less than the maximum prescribed by the Small Loan Law.

CLINIC EXPECTS 500 TO ATTEND PARTIES

Dental Association Makes Final Arrangements For Four Benefit Affairs Next Week At American Legion Home.

MORE than 500 persons are expected to attend the four benefit card parties sponsored by the Mansfield Dental Clinic association to raise funds for providing dental treatment for underprivileged school children, it was announced today by Mrs. Robert D. Evans, general chairman of the drive, following a week-end committee meeting.

The parties will be held at 2 and 8 p. m. March 27 and 28 at the American Legion auditorium on Park avenue west. According to Mrs. George Ingram, ticket chairman, there are still 500 tickets available for clubs or individuals desiring to attend. Mrs. Ingram also asked that club ticket chairmen report to her.

It is hoped that the association will clear $350 for the carrying on of clinical work among Mansfield school children whose parents cannot afford to have dental work done.

The committee chairmen will meet March 25 at 7:30 p. m. in the municipal court chamber of the City building. Tickets for the four parties, which are open to the public, are being handled by members of all the leading study and civic organizations in the city, and by members of the clinic board which is made up of Mansfield club women.

Two Y. W. Groups Plan Formal Dance For Early April

Announcement was made late yesterday of plans being made for a formal dance to be given jointly by Beta Epsilon and Garcia, two Y. W. C. A. business girls' club. Miss Margaret Rizer was named as general chairman by Miss Dorothy Stephenson, Beta Epsilon president.

Committee members included Helen Downard, Kay Johnston, Margaret Herold and Margaret McBride, publicity; Pat Anderson, Charlotte Gray, Betty Braden and Helen Lanzen, decorations. The general committee includes the officers of the two organizations and Lois Baughman and Maxine Zediker.

The dance will be an event of April 6 with George Terry's orchestra at the Grotto hall from 9:30 p. m. to 1 a. m. The dance will be open, and tickets may be obtained from members of both clubs.

Celebrate Anniversary With Family Dinner

A quiet family dinner party held yesterday celebrated the 38th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Blackman, 29 Arthur avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Blackman were married at Toledo March 17, 1902. Mr. Blackman, who is a real estate man of this city, is a native of Shelby, and Mrs. Blackman, who was Miss Helen Seifley before her marriage, was born in Richland county.

The couple has resided in Mansfield for 36 years. They are the parents of two daughters, Mrs. Bessie Rubino and Miss Mabel Blackman. Both daughters are at home.

NUPTIAL CEREMONY PERFORMED SATURDAY

Miss Nellie Elisabeth Reader Becomes Bride of Charles A. Atwell At Park Avenue Baptist Church At 1:30 p. m.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM C. READER, Swissvale, Pa., came to Mansfield this week-end for the marriage of their daughter, Nellie Elisabeth, to Charles Thomas Atwell, Pittsburgh, Pa., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Atwell, 245 Park avenue west. The informal ceremony was performed at 1:30 p. m. Saturday by Rev. Hayes M. Braker, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, at the church.

Miss Reader, who has made her home here at 282 Marion avenue, was attired in a powder blue crepe ensemble with ashes of roses accessories and a shoulder corsage of pink camellias when she came up the aisle on her father's arm.

She was attended by Miss Miriam Klingensmith, Irwin, Pa., who wore an ashes of roses crepe frock made in the basque style with a petal design collar of pique. Her flowers were Johanna Hill roses. Fred A. Ashton, Pittsburgh, Pa., was best man, and David DeWitt, Mansfield, ushered.

Miss Edna Boswell, organist, played the nuptial music, and Mrs. Howard Heldman, Struthers, O., a sorority sister of the bride's, sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly." Organ selections were "At Dawning" and "Indian Love Call."

The bride's mother appeared at the nuptial event wearing an Eleanor blue dress with navy accessories and a corsage of gardenias, while Mrs. Atwell wore navy blue crepe with a gardenia corsage.

A brief reception for members of the families and a few friends followed in the parlors of the church. Hostesses included the Misses Margaret Dellenbaugh, Mabel Bennett and Virginia Rimmer, all of Mansfield, and Miss Judy Bean, Granville, a school friend of the bride's.

The former Miss Reader received her A. B. degree at Denison university at Granville where she was a member of Alpha Omicron Pi. She has been a physical education teacher at the Madison Township high school.

Mr. Atwell is a production clerk at the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company in Pittsburgh.

After a short motor trip, the couple will be at home on Delaware avenue in Swissvale.

Steam Corners

SICK, NERVOUS CRANKY "EVERY MONTH"?

Read WHY Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Is Real "Woman's Friend"
Some women suffer severe monthly pain (cramps, backache) due to female functional disorders while others' nerves tend to become upset and they get cross, restless, jittery and moody.
Why not take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made especially to help tired, rundown, nervous women to go smiling thru "difficult days." Pinkham's Compound contains no opiates or habit-forming ingredients. It is made from nature's own special roots and herbs—each with its own special purpose to HELP WOMEN. Famous for over half a century. Try it!

Gamma Mu Sigma Entertains With Afternoon Affair

There were 10 guests from the Mt. Vernon chapter of Gamma Mu Sigma present at the party given yesterday afternoon when the Mansfield chapter from the First Christian church entertained at the Y. W. C. A. Arrangements were in charge of the Misses Esther Jane Maxwell, Jean Shivley, Belle Bainter, and Mrs. Joseph Bertka.

Mrs. Bruce Rogers opened the program with the song "Open the Gates of the Temple," and Miss Geraldine Marlow played the violin selection "Melody" by Dawes. Miss Frances Carter sang "Prayer Perfect" after which Mrs. William Joiner conducted a short worship service. Miss Shivley gave the story "Maid of Emmanus."

Group singing preceded the serving of dinner to the group. The tables were appropriately decorated with St. Patrick appointments.

Do you have trouble locating pots and kettles? Then it's time to revamp the cupboard. It probably will save your disposition as well as your time. Fasten narrow bars across the back of a tall cabinet. Screw hooks to the bars and hang utensils on the hooks. Have a lower shelf for shallow pans that won't hang.
